Americans In Daring Raid In Solomons

U. S. Carrier Task Force Breaks Up Jap Concentration For Invasion

SEVEN VESSELS BOMB DAMAGED

Attack Takes Place In Northern Solomons Gen. MacArthur Reports

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—A daring and successful raid by an American carrier task force into the heart of the Japanese stronghold in the northern Solomons today indicated the intensity of U. S. determination to prevent the Nipponese from extending their domination into the southwest Pacific.

Using the same tactics that paved the way for the Nipponese defeat in the Coral Sea battle, units of America's Pacific fleet pounced on a concentration of enemy invasion ships and planes in the Shortland Island area, and damaged seven vessels, including two cruisers.

Significantly, the American assault coincided with predictions that the Japanese were completing preparations for another drive designed to oust United States forces from the vital Guadalcanal area in the southern Solomons.

Heavy Damage Inflicted

Directed by Vice Admiral R. L. Ghormley, the American carrier force inflicted the following damage on the enemy units which obviously were poised for a counter-invasion thrust:

One heavy cruiser damaged by heavy bonds; one transport damaged by heavy bombs; one seaplane tender damaged by light bombs; two cargo ships damaged by light bombs; one cruiser and one destroyer strafed in the harbor at Shortland Island; four four-engined flying boats destroyed on the water

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Police warning that pre-hallowe'en noise and antics on the streets of the city will not be tolerated should be a warning for gangs of youngsters who believe that hallowe'en pranks and annoyances are privileged for the entire month of October. London Sees Indications Flower Of German Army Beaten At Stalingrad

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Military circles in London today interpreted a Berlin announcement that future assaults against Stalingrad would be left to Nazi artillery batteries and luftwaffe dive-bombers as an indication that the flower of the German army had been beaten by the defenders of the Volga city.

A Nazi military spokesman, speaking over the Berlin radio, asserted last night that the Germans had achieved their "strategic objectives" at Stalingrad. It was therefore unnecessary, he contended, to continue sending German infantry into assaults against the industrial metropolis.

"The finishing touches will be entrusted to heavy artillery and Stukas," he concluded.

Urge Extreme Caution

Informed quarters in the British capital pointed out, however, that until front line dispatches confirm that German infantry have been

"Surprise" Drills To Be This Month

One Night, One Daytime Air Raid Rehearsal For Entire State Soon

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9—Two statewide "surprise" air raid drills will be held in Pennsylvania this month, one at night and the other during the day, the State Defense Council announced today.

Dr. Arnaud C. Marts, executive director of the council, reiterated that the daylight alert, which had been previously announced, would be held during school hours in order to give students a chance to participate. Marts added that he had notified school officials to complete their preparations "at once."

The blackout will be the fourth statewide night test to be held in the state and like the daylight alert, which will be the first of its kind in Pennsylvania, will be heralded only by the shrill tones of air raid sirens.

Statewide blackout tests were held in June, July and August, the last in conjunction with New Jersey. Daylight alerts have been held in many communities, but not on a statewide basis.

The daylight air raid drill will give school authorities and pupils a chance to test their preparations. School children are not to be evacuated from school buildings during an air raid or air raid drill except where the school buildings have been declared unsafe as a place of custody for the children. In that event, Marts and Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis B. Haas recently pointed out, plans should be made to take the children to the "nearest and safest place of refuge."

Two Jap Ships Are Attacked

Allied Ground Forces In New Guinea Continue To Push Forward

(International News Service)

GEN. MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Oct. 9—Allied bombers smashed at Japanese bases and shipping in four raids in the New Guinea area as their ground forces continued their slow but steady advance down the Owen Stanley mountain range.

Two enemy ship were attacked by bombing planes in the seas southwest of New Guinea but murky weather prevented observation of results, an official communique reported.

Reconnaissance planes bombed a Japanese vessel at Koepang, on Timor Island, while medium bombers attacked a medium-sized transport at Saumlakki in the Tenimber Islands of the Sanda Sea.

Meantime other medium bomber squadrons harassed the retreating Japanese forces in New Guinea, bombing and strafing their positions at Kokoda, on the northern slope of the Owen Stanley range, and the coastal base at Buna on the northeast shore of New Guinea opposite the Allied base at Port Moresby.

Blast Japs In Burma, China

(International News Service)

NEW DELHI, India, Oct. 9—In a three-day series of hard hitting, low-altitude attacks, United States bombers have blasted Japanese communications in Burma and China, American Army Air Force Headquarters announced today. The attacks were made Oct. 2, 3 and 4.

The first assault carried the bombers over Magaung, Burma, where they destroyed a railway bridge and rolling stock and damaged 600 feet of track. On the following day they roared over Japanese barracks southeast of Loiwing and in Yunnan Province, China, heavily attacking their targets.

This same bridge was assaulted again Oct. 4, when seven direct hits also scored on a runway of a landing field at an unspecified location. A large steamer and two small river craft were attacked by machine-gun fire north of Katha, Burma, with the steamboat being forced ashore.

Red Army Widens Offensive Move Near Stalingrad

GERMAN ATTACKS BEING REPELLED

Stockholm Report Is That Nazi Forces In Russia Are Being Shifted

By JAMES E. BROWN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Oct. 9.—The Red army widened its offensive northwest of Stalingrad today and again broke into Nazi trench fortifications at one point.

An announcement by the Soviet high command at noon said that Marshal Semyon Timoshenko had launched offensive operations designed to relieve the siege of the city on several sectors.

Scores of Germans were killed when the Soviets broke into the Nazi trenches, the high command said.

Heavy Tank Action

Heavy battling between tank and infantry forces raged on at Stalingrad despite assertions made by a German military spokesman in a broadcast over the Berlin radio that only artillery and air forces would be left to "mop up" the city.

The Germans were beaten back from another street within the city when the Russian defendens counter-attacked to eliminate a temporary gain scored by the Nazis.

The Germans drove into one street, the high command said, but after stubborn fighting the remanants of the Nazi force retired to their initial positions.

The Soviets were said to have improved their positions southeast of the fallen Black sea naval base of Novorossisk through strong coun-

Retirement will be a strange experience to Mr. Leslie, for his years of devoted service and diligent attention to post office responsibilities have never found him absent from his desk for long.

Mr. Leslie resides at 808 Court street. He has no definite plans for the future, but hopes to just take things easy for a while.

Expect Senate Will Vote For 'Victory Tax'

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. — The Senate today is expected to adopt the radical new "victory" gross income tax—accompanied by a 5 per cent payroll deduction beginning January 1—despite admitted unpopularity of the new levy and stiff opposition to its inclusion in the $8,000,000,000 bill.

The levy, proposed by the finance committee as an alternative to higher individual income taxes and a sales tax, is estimated to produce more than $3,000,000,000 a year.

With advocates of a retail sales tax abandoning their fight to write such a levy into the bill, a proposal by Senator Downey (D) Calif., to revise the "victory" tax appeared to be the chief obstacle inthe path of approval.

"I think the 'victory' tax will be adopted," said Senator George (D) Ga., chairman of the finance committee, "unless someone can propose a better substitute. I know of none. As a matter of fact the 'victory' tax is all right. It is high, but taxes have to be high."

Rural Districts Scrap Collection Dates Set And Plans Completed

Scrap collection days for the rural districts of the county have been set for October 15, 16, 17, Ross D. Rosenberger, chairman of the salvage committee of the Lawrence County Council of Defense, announced today and the details of the collection are announced herewith.

Quite naturally the collection of scrap on the farms sets up a problem different from the collection in the city where citizens can put their scrap out on the curbs on October 17 and trucks will pick it up. It remained for the fertile mind of Numa F. Vidal, county collection chairman, to solve the difficulties and his plan is so simple and easy that the committee is wondering why it wasn't thought of before.

Follows Wool Pool

Mr. Vidal's plan follows that of the wool pool collection used in this county. Under the set-up of the Agricultural Conservation association, there are 10 divisions of the county, covering the 17 townships, under the direction of Dorris L. Fulkman. In each division there are three representatives and on Thursday in the court house Mr. Rosenberger and Mr. Vidal addressed the representatives.

Briefly the plan is this. Each division of the A.C.A. will be known as a pooling district. Each scrap pool will designate an official weighing-in scales and provide suitable ground for storing the scrap.

An official weighmaster will be designated and he will issue weight slips as a receipt for scrap brought to his scales. A board of three di-

More Norwegians Executed By Nazis

Nine More Are Shot To Death By German Firing Squads It Is Reported

(International News Service)

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 9.—As nine more Norwegians went to their deaths by Nazi executioners, bringing to 34 the number to face firing squads in the past three days, the Stockholm newspaper Allehanda reported that the Axis feared a Dieppe-style raid on the Norwegian coast.

The executions, the newspaper said, were an effort to break the spirit of the Norwegian people and prevent co-operation with any Allied Commando expeditions.

"There is no doubt that something is brewing in Norway that is making the Germans exceedingly nervous," the newspaper declared.

It was pointed out that sabotage activities could not have been the reason for the wholesale executions as some of the victims have been in custody for as long as a year. Quisling authorities were said to be abandoning the pretense that the executions were reprisals for sabotage. Now they claim the victims were involved in plots to accumulate arms stores in the Trondheim area.

Headless Body Found In River Near Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9.—Discovery of a headless torso in the back channel of the Ohio river at Neville Island revived the possibility that Cleveland's "mad butcher of Kingsbury Run" might have been active again.

The torso was found by Capt. R. C. Peck of the United States towboat Tennessee, within a few miles of McKees Rocks, where in May, 1940, the nude, headless bodies of three men were found in a freight car.

Only a few sheds of clothing remained on the torso, including a black belt with a small square nickle buckle.

Japs Make Attack For Willkie

Seek To Provide Taste Of Battle

Attack Is Made Before Arrival Of U. S. Representative However

TWENTY-FIVE JAP BOMBERS IN ATTACK

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

CHUNGKING, Oct. 9.—The Japanese appeared determined today to provide Wendell L. Willkie with a real taste of war before he departs from China.

It was revealed simultaneously with an announcement that President Roosevelt's special envoy had visited the Honan battlefront yesterday that 25 Japanese bombers heavily attacked the railway town of Loyang Thursday in the apparent belief that Willkie was there.

Four bombs were dropped in the area Willkie visited just prior to his arrival.

Japs Start Shelling

Shortly before he arrived at the front line trenches in Honan province, just 800 yards from the enemy lines, the Japs started shelling. The front was quiet, however, when Willkie came upon the scene.

He stood on the south bank of the Yellow river and was able to see Japanese troops on the north side.

It was recalled that a Jap plane stalked Willkie's plane for some days while he was en route to Chungking to confer with Chinese officials.

Willkie, it was disclosed, was given a tremendous ovation when he visited Sian, capital of Shensi province.

He was escorted during part of his tour by Captain Chiang Wei-Ko, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's youngest son, who staged a sham battle for the benefit of his distinguished visitor.

Willkie inspected big German-made batteries and recalled his experiences as an artillery officer in France during the last war.

Fight On

He addressed a division under command of General Su Chung-Nan.

"Free men would admire you," he told the troops.

"Your Allies should see that you have adequate equipment.

"Fight on," he continued. "You can't lose. China never will die. She is beginning a new life.

"As an American I salute you."

Capt. Chiang Wei-Ko, who speaks flawless English, chatted pleasantly with Willkie throughout the tour.

In honor of the American visitor, a crack Chinese division paraded in review.

Before leaving the front, Willkie inspected a Chinese gun emplacement and visited an advanced observation post from which he peered through a telescopic sight, spotting a Japanese gun position and two enemy sentries.

Man is punished for many reasons, but analysis will show that his real offense was either ignorance or poverty.

A mixture of plain sugar and cream is so good that nothing could improve it except a shortage of cream.

RURAL DISTRICT SCRAP COLLECTION DATES SET AND PLANS COMPLETED

rectors will supervise the work of the weighmaster and will also direct a scrap auction after the collection is completed. Each holder of a weight slip will participate in the receipts for the scrap according to the amount of scrap he brings in. For example if there are 25 tons of scrap collected in one pool, a farmer turning in one ton will receive one-twenty-fifth of the receipts. A farmer turning in two tons will receive two-twenty-fifths and a farmer turning in half a ton will receive one-fiftieth. It's as simple as that.

Organize Youths

Each scrap pool will organize the Future Farmers, Boy Scouts, granges, church groups, etc., for a house-to-house and farm-to-farm canvas in advance of the scrap collection. The directors, prior to the auctioning of the scrap pool will have the pile examined to determine if any spare machinery parts should be removed and saved for sale later to a farmer who has need for the parts. At any time prior to the auction any farmer may purchase parts he needs.

The farmers will collect their scrap, haul it to the scrap pool and there receive the weight slip which will determine his share of the receipts. However if he has a full truck load or any part of a load he wishes to haul into the city and dispose of at sale to a scrap dealer, this is perfectly agreeable to the committee.

The plan seems feasible and workable. Every farm has many times the scrap lying around that a city dweller has and because the farmer provides his own labor in collection and delivery he gets the money.

Dorris L. Fulkman, county scrap collection chairman has already started his representatives working on the plan and on Thursday the plan was approved by the representatives at the meeting.

So here we go, you folks who provide the foodstuffs that the city dweller needs. Get out the scrap so we can stay in the scrap. There isn't any limit to scrap around farms. Old plow shares, equipment chains, abandoned machinery, old tools, these and a thousand other things. If the county makes a heavy showing in scrap collection you can thank the lads on the farm for it. We've a hunch they will come through in glowing fashion.

RED ARMY WIDENS OFFENSIVE MOVE NEAR STALINGRAD

ter-attacks. The Russian assaults forced the German command to withdraw badly mauled Romanian troops and replace them with Germans.

A Nazi attempt to carry out a pincer attack south of the city was frustrated by Red army troops. The Russians stood firm when the Nazis renewed an offensive on this sector and destroyed 26 tanks accompanying the attacking force.

The noon communique said the defense forces inside Stalingrad had repelled four new heavy German attacks. They held the ground in the face of a concerted German attempt to split their units defending the industrial center and force ahead to reach the banks of the Volga.

Move In Caucasus

It was revealed that the Germans yesterday carried out their most determined effort made so far to smash through the Caucasus. Concentrating huge mechanized forces in the Mozdok area, the Nazis attacked at dawn. Wave after wave of Germans were sent into battle but were repeatedly repelled. The Russians then threw in reserve forces to deliver a counter-attack through which they improved their positions.

A raid was made by Soviet forces against a German troop concentration on the northwest front and all Nazi assaults in this region were beaten, off, it was said.

The Germans attacked on the central front west of Moscow but the assault failed, according to the high command.

Fighting at Stalingrad was said to be particularly severe in the region of a factory workers' settlement in the northern part of the city.

It was admitted by the high command that the Germans succeeded in penetrating into two streets but the Nazis were made to pay a high price for their gain.

Shifting Troops

Stockholm, Oct. 9.—The Germans were reported today to have shifted part of their forces from the attack on Stalingrad proper to positions northwest of the city, where Russian troops are blasting through the Nazi lines.

The newspaper Svenska Dagbladet reported that the German high command began moving troops from Stalingrad yesterday in an effort to halt Soviet Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's relief offensive.

If the report is confirmed, it would be the first indication that Timoshenko's offensive has succeeded in its principal object, that of diminishing pressure against the beleaguered Volga city.

(The British radio said today, in a broadcast heard by CBS, that "strong Russian armored forces still are crossing the Don" northwest of Stalingrad.)

PRESIDENT OPPOSES PROGRAM TO FREEZE SOCIAL SECURITY TAX

celled the automatic increase in old age payroll taxes of 1 per cent each on employer and employee effective on Jan. 1, 1943.

Mr. Roosevelt voiced his objections in a letter to Sen. George (D) Ga., chairman of the finance committee, who had it read to the senate.

At the same time the president announced that he will soon submit a program to extend the nation's Social Security system involving "substantial increases" in employer and employe contributions.

The president said that both employment and income from which the payroll taxes are made "are at a very high point" and that present purchasing power "threatens the stability of the cost of living." He added that an increase in rates at the present time is "in accord with the necessities of the Social Security system itself."

If he prophesies the future, that is foresight; if he can make ancient prophecies fit the present, that is imagination.

AMERICANS IN DARING RAID IN SOLOMONS

at Faisi and six damaged by strafing and two seaplanes and two bombers destroyed in the Shortland Island area.

This boosted to 37 the number of Japanese ships sunk or damaged in the Solomons campaign and to 238 the total of enemy planes destroyed.

News of the successful foray came at a time when official Washington circles felt that the zero hour was approaching for another enemy attempt to retake their lost positions in the Guadalcanal area, especially the important airport on the latter island.

The raid demonstrated that America's Pacific fleet has remained on the alert against fresh Japanese moves and it displayed again the tactics that won for the United States a string of important victories that began with the Coral Sea campaign last March. This was borne out by the navy's communique which said in part:

"During recent weeks our long-range reconnaissance aircraft observed a large number of enemy ships concentrating in the Shortland Island area, south of the Island of Bougainville.

"On Oct. 5, navy carrier-based aircraft from a task force under the operational control of Vice-Admiral R. L. Ghormley attacked the enemy ships while long-range bombers under the command of Gen. Douglas MacArthur coordinated in the attack plan with simultaneous raids on Japanese bases in nearby islands. These latter raids have been announced by Gen. MacArthur.

Although the American assault was carried out without damage to U. S. forces, naval analysts pointed out that the victory in no way was decisive and that the Nipponese may regroup their strength soon for another attempt to retake the southern Solomons.

Volunteers who have no transportation are asked to be at the corner of Englewood and Highland avenues at 1:15 Saturday afternoon. MRS. SAMUEL NORRIS SEVENTY-NINE THURSDAY

Mrs. Samuel H. Norris, who resides with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolford on North street, quietly celebrated her 79th birthday anniversary on Thursday, October 8.

While Mrs. Norris is at present confined to her bed, she had a most joyous anniversary with relatives and friends calling throughout the afternoon and evening hours. Many lovely personal remembrances were received by Mrs. Norris as additional mementos.

Mrs. Norris, who is greatly concerned about the everyday problems, has done a commendable amount of work toward aiding Uncle Sam by knitting. She knitted the total of forty cap-mufflers last year, and while she has been bedfast since January 15 this year, she has completed fifteen of the same articles, for the local Red Cross.

Mrs. Norris, who is cheerful and enjoys her host friendships, has the sight of only one eye, but her willingness "to do" never ceases. She was elated in hearing from a Yorkshire soldier in the R. A. F. in England, who expressed his appreciation for the camp-muffler he had received, knitted by her.

BURMA ROAD OF AMERICA

SOON, very soon according to report, a stream of trucks carrying vital war material will plunge into the Canadian forests and in an incredibly short time emerge at American bases in Alaska. The long hoped-for link between the United States' Northwest and "Seward's Folly" is nearly complete.

Some people call it the Burma Road of America. Certainly, its importance to the nation's Pacific defence will be incalculable. With the Japanese in possession of a toehold in the Aleution Islands, the need for speedy transport of supplies and munitions is urgent.

United States and Canadian air forces are stepping up their attacks on the Nipponese-held islands, and they need every plane and bomb they can get. Should an invasion of the mainland ever be attempted by the Japs, the Canadian-Alaskan highway would permit a quick shift of forces from U. S. Army camps to this new front.

Moreover, announcement of American occupation of the Andreanof Islands, only a short distance from Kiska and within bombing range of Tokyo, suggests an impending U. S. offensive in the northern Pacific.

And while this gigantic engineering feat is being performed in the Northwest, crews of workmen are engaged in constructing the first stretches of another highway that will unite by land transport Mexico, Central America and South America with the United States.

Before the entrance of the United States into the war, such projects were much talked about, but nothing was accomplished. That probably would be the state of affairs today, if it had not been for Pearl Harbor. The sudden assault on Hawaii emphasized the need for hemispheric unity, and part of that unity must come through interlocking highway systems.

The time will come when motor tourists can travel over one continuous highway from the Arctic Circle to Cape Horn. In the meantime, the completion of the Burma Road of America will strengthen the United Nations in the West and give Tokyo greater cause for worry. As submarines and planes whittle down Japanese shipping, the task of holding distant bases increases. When the zero hour for a counter-offensive strikes, the Canadian-Alaska route will come into its own.

WHO'S A MOLLYCODDLE?

The New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers, meeting at Lake Placid, was told by Dr. Hiram A. Jones, director of the division of health and physical education of the State Education Department, that New York state's "provision for physical and emotional preparation to meet the demands of the war effort must be greatly expanded to insure victory."

Doctor Jones regrets that all the theory about physical education has not been followed up by compulsory practice in the schools. He seems to advocate a certain standard of physical fitness as well as mental fitness in the schools. This would mean, the implication is, that students who failed to pass physical examinations would also fail to get diplomas.

If carried to such an extreme, the requirement would be foolish in time of peace, when brain power counts for at least as much as muscle power. Even in wartime, when the nation needs muscle as it never did before, Doctor Jones' theory sounds impractical.

It is all part and parcel of an inferiority complex developed by Americans who believe that the nation has been softened by too much leisure and too many advantages. At the outset of a military career American young men may not have the tough muscles and strong backs of a less fortunate people who have been disciplined since early childhood under autocratic government.

But consideration should be given the bodily benefits provided by ample food and rest, which have given the average American boy a backing of resistance. He can be made into a soldier in spite of his lack of scheduled physical exercise in an amazingly short time.

Faith in mollycoddled American youth is not extinct. Anne O'Hare McCormick in the New York Times writes in praise of "our amazing Army." Mrs. McCormick has had the opportunity to observe other armies going into action. She is struck by the extraordinary physical fitness of these young Americans.

Mrs. McCormick finds nothing wrong with the muscle, the manners or the morale of this new Army of the United States. About the mental attitude, so much debated, Mrs. McCormick says: "They believe in themselves and in their country with a casual and matter-of-fact faith that shames the doubters and debaters among their elders."

Doctor Jones and others like him need not despair.

A WARNING TO RUBBER WASTERS

Rubber Administrator Jeffers' blunt warning against rubber chiseling was forceful and to the point. Most citizens will go along gladly with the government's rubber program, but there is a small segment of the population which will, in Mr. Jeffers' words, "try to beat the game." To these people he says simply, "Look out!"

Automobile tires constitute one of our last stockpiles of rubber. To conserve that asset, the government has ordered three steps: Gasoline rationing to limit the use of tires; reduced speed to save wear and tear on tires and periodic inspection to check the condition of tires.

Each of these measures is necessary. Properly carried out they will keep the nation on wheels much longer than would otherwise be possible. Those who chisel ration cards to which they are not entitled, or who persist in driving their cars above 35 miles an hour, are helping to defeat the purpose of the conservation program.

Mr. Jeffers, as rubber administrator, is trying to push the production of synthetic rubber so as to meet all military and civilian needs. In the meantime the rubber we have on hand, including that in tires, must go as far as possible. Rubber-wasters impede our war efforts. They won't, Mr. Jeffers assures us, get away with it.

Tires may be gone and gasoline going, but the neigh of the horse is still uncommon in city streets.

The Hitler steamroller reached Stalingrad, but it is now emitting much steam and doing little rolling.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHAT DAD DOES BOY WANT

If the adolescent boy were to choose his dad, would he choose the one he has? Some would; some would not.

Many a boy in his teens feels as if he were an orphan wishing that he had a father like the father of his pal. He wants a dad who understands him, who will not laugh at him when he tells him about his troubles, who will make him feel he cares to hear anything his boy wants to tell him.

Your adolescent lad wants a father to whom he can come without fear or hesitancy with any personal matter. When he has doubts about his physical condition he will come to his father with his problems. No advertisement will lure him to the office of a quack.

Learning From Dad

From his dad this boy will learn how to take care of himself and will get an inspiration to live clean and manly with healthy attitudes toward girls. His dad will guide him in good physical and mental health, encourage him to cultivate wide friendships with many other boys and girls, to engage in outdoor sports and athletics, and to acquire wide interests outside himself.

The adolescent boy wants a dad who will make him feel that he is growing up, that his opinions, judgments and decisions merit his respect—a dad who will not ridicule his choices and inquiries but who will make him feel he has an honored personality.

He wants a dad who will treat him courteously, not interrupting him, not butting in on his conversation, nor answering the questions put to him—a dad who will help him to find pleasure in expression and feel comfortable in conversation. He wants a dad who welcomes to the home his boy friends and is a generous host to them, who will mix well in their fun when he is wanted, and will not impose himself upon them uninvited.

Wishes Appreciation

He wants some one who appreciates his efforts and good qualities, who is liberal with approval that is worthy, who is not over-generous with blame, who doesn't nag nor lecture him, and who does not embarrass him by censure in the presence of his comrades.

He wants a dad whom the neighborhood, his mother and the girls and other boys respect. Our children are exceedingly solicitious of our reputations. Nothing wounds them more than to hear criticisms of our manners and our conduct When they call our attention to such matters, let us listen patiently and set out to profit from the tips and the suggestions which they offer.

A selected list of books on understanding the adolescent may be had by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. What measures would you suggest for curing my boy ten of cramming his mouth full of food and chewing then with his lips open.

A. Quit nagging. For each offense let him finish his meal in another room away from the family group This problem should solve itself without punishment if there is enough calmness and a happy atmosphere at meals.

The World and the Mud Puddles

ALASKA AND ALEUTIANS

Public concern lest Alaska—with the Japanese having a foothold in the Aleutians—might prove the Achilles heel of America in the event of a Jap attempt to invade this continent, was widespread before members of the Senate's investigating committee personally inspected Alaska's key defense preparations.

It was reassuring to hear from those Senators that Alaska is strongly fortified and garrisoned and that our military establishment there is being augmented constantly. It is also reassuring to learn that construction on the military highway to Alaska is going forward so rapidly that the highway will be in service wtihin a few months.

General Billy Mitchell, the man who was so far ahead of contemporary military thought that he suffered disgrace for his foresight, said of Alaska in 1935—a long while ago as world events have run:

"Alaska is the most central place in the world for aircraft, and that is true either of Europe, Asia or North America. I believe that in the future he who holds Alaska will hold the world, and I think it is the most strategic place in the world."

Just now, it may be, Alaska is important principally as an outpost of continental defense. But in years to come, as Billy Mitchell predicted, Alaska may become the Gibraltar of American air power, offensively as well as defensively—more important to this country than the rock of Gibraltar was important to British sea power in the days when nothing more damaging than hailstones was to be feared from the skies above that rock.

A local gal says she could turn her husband in as scrap, as that is about the only thing she knows he is good for.

"It's a pretty tough world," said the man who had to start alimony payments before the last installment on the engagement ring was paid for.

"A cannibal will not eat the meat of a man who has used tobacco"... name me one man who is willing to forego tobacco just to please a cannibal.

"The modern girl wants to be pretty enough to look wonderful in anything she might wear...; and a treat for the masculine eyes if she didn't wear much of anything.

"Ever stop to consider that the boys with whom you forbid your daughter keepnig company are the same kind you were at their age?" ——or, perhaps that's the reason!

Mrs. Hi Hum was asked if she believed in clubs for women. "Yes," was the reply, "if kindness fails and a woman has a worthless husband."

Some people even think eating meat is not a good thing. They ought to be happy now.

A South Side man said, "My wife is not very strong physically, but she can put the cap on a fruit jar so that it takes 20 minutes to take it off."

ANSWERING CURIOUS CYNIC

The old joke is still good, except that the pants pockets pilfered of small change while the owner sleeps are mother's.

It is claimed that women always wear their dresses shorter during a war. We hope that the longer the war the shorter will be the dresses is not the rule.

When all is said and done, as the saying goes, there is always something more to say and do.

If a woman will, she will,
You may depend on't,
If she won't, she won't,
And there's an end on't.

Greatest tribute ever paid to woman came from the man who told his wife he would marry her if she were a widow.

Can you match this one? The other day I saw a family drive into a parking meter space and leave the car without putting in the customary coins. The man looked at his watch and they all went on their way. Almost an hour later they came back, the man looked at his watch, put in enough coins to pay for the time used and drove away apparently blissfully unaware of the fact that they might have had a nice little greeting card from the police on their return.

It semeed too good to keep.

Oratory don't cut as much of a figure in political campaigns as money. It yells the loudest.

That law about regulating the renting of houses is still causing a lot of talk. Of course, most of it is by landlords and tenants.

To the young man in business we would say: "Don't spend too much time hunting for new things, but study to improve upon the old ones; every flat stone and most of the round ones have been turned over already by novelty hunters."

IDLE THOUGHTS

We know the course of true love never does run smooth, but the case of the boy who couldn't forget the girl that turned him down, because he owed too many payments on the things he had bought her—is really sad, don't you think?

And the girl who had a red-headed rival to her boy friend's affection, she said she wouldn't give him up, even if she had to DYE for him.

Then there was the father who told his daughter he wouldn't object to her boy friend sowing a few wild oats, if he didn't mix so much rye with it.

Then after they got married, she told her girl friend that her biscuits the first night were a huge success. "How come?" "Oh, when he ate one, he suggested getting a cook right away."

And he said he knew now why the war could be won by food—just throw a few of his wife's biscuits at the Japs, it would help.

When they had a little boy, one day he had trouble with his daddy and mamma, so he went to their lawyer and said all he wanted was a divorce from his daddy and mama, but he hoped he could get it without going to Reno. So it all goes to prove, as I said in the beginning, that the course of true love never did run smooth—does it?

We are in favor of all the guns in this country being sent to Hitler, loaded and pointed right at him

"I'm a little hoarse today," observed a stout woman as she waited for a bus at Moody avenue. My, my," observed a man who heard the remark. "That gal is sure complimenting herself. She doesn't look like a little one to me."

It looks as if this country needs more workers and not more workers doing less work.

"Now remember, children," said the teacher, "swat every fly you see . . . that will mean millions less before the summer is over."

One boy raised his hand and on being given permission to rise, said: "Why didn't noah swat both them flies when he had them on the Ark?"

Anyhow, when Willkie sees things being done he has a very good idea of whether they are being done right or not.

HAVE YOU THAT TIRED COMPLEX?

Other than physical repulsiveness, nothing hampers a girl's popularity so much as the tired complex. A famous employment counsellor advises every girl haunted by this bogie to ask herself these questions: 1. Has my work a hopeful prospect? 2. Does anyone associated with me unjustly anger me, either secretly or overly? 3. Does anything on my conscience trouble me? 4. Am I haunted by a thwarted ambition? 5. Would I feel a sense of release if I changed my home surroundings? 6. Am I pining for marriage that seems impossible? 7. What constructive act can I perform to relieve me of much of these causes as depress me? If there remains any incubus that can't be shaken off—the best cure will be a congenial career. If this is impossible, increase your social activities and adopt new hobbies, even if they are but breeding tropical fish, collecting stamps, making period costume dolls, manufacturing hand-made jewelry. But do something!

Question: Give us the order of a wedding recessional—please.

Answer: The maid of honor returns to the bride her bouquet. The maid then lifts the bride's face veil (if she has worn one). The bride, carrying her bouquet in her right arm, puts her left hand through her husband's right arm and leads the recessional. The maid of honor (walking alone) follows. The best man, at a conventionally-conducted wedding, leaves through a side door, after collecting the groom's hat which he gives to the groom when they meet outside of the church. The bridesmaids follow the maid of honor in pairs; the ushers are last, walking in pairs. Flower girls (if any) may precede the bride and groom. The ring bearer should follow directly behind the bride and groom. It is a breach of etiquette for the guests to leave their pews until after the bridal party has gone out.

COULDN'T STAND IT

A little girl couldn't understand why her father was singing so loudly and she asked her mother about it.

The mother explained he was trying to get the baby to sleep, to which the little girl replied, "I would pretend I was asleep, if I was the baby, rather than listen to that."

"What kind of ice cream do you want, little girl?" "I guess strawberry would look best on my dress."

Motor Cop—"I've had my eye on you for some time, miss." Co-ed—"And I thought you merely wanted to give me a ticket for speeding."

Wifey—"The fortune teller said my second husband would be handsome and clever." Hubby—"Do you mean to tell me you have been married before?"

Production And The Military Demands Keeping Big Army Supplied Is Problem
Rivalry Between Factions Is Too Keen

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—We can't have more men than we need, to fight the Axis, but we can have more than we can keep adequately supplied with arms and ammunition to do their fighting with.

A considerable proportion of this productive work can be handled by women, by young kids, under military age, and by decrepit old coots or semi-invalids, who aren't fit for outright belligerency. Nevertheless, an industrial force has to include quite a nucleus of formidable made citizens whom front line commanders are very covetous of.

Consequently there's an everlasting tendency to scoop these eligibles in, as active combatants in the field, afloat or in the atmosphere

It goes without saying that any country wants at least as many scrappers mobilized as any enemy country's able to oppose 'em with, and, if the enemy can be outnumbered, it's all the better.

That's on the supposition, though, that the numerically superior organization is equipped to account for itself effectively. Under-armed it's apt to be licked by a comparative few, with the machinery and projectiles to offset its minority.

Hence the question's constantly at issue in wartime:

How few men can industry possibly worry along on with no sacrifice of its productive capacity, versus how many can the Army and Navy conscript from productive ranks without limiting their own supplies of homicide's essentials?

Rivalry Is Keen

The rivalry between production management and military demands is pretty keen, too, almost amounting to jealousy.

The nub of it is that too large an army to be practical is a possibility.

More men may be available but only at the expense of their total mechanical formidability.

Such a discussion's in progress now in Washington I wouldn't say that it constitutes an argument, to the extent of being a real difference of opinion, but the matter's under careful consideration.

Our Army's requirements, of course, exceed anything before in past history.

Gen Brehon B. Somervell, it's supply service chief, supplied the budget bureau with his estimates as to the funds it'll need for 1943.

Chairman Donald M. Nelson and Paul V. McNutt of the war production board and the manpower commission, respectively, raised the point that the Army, in comparison with our imaginably attainable output is getting top heavy. As it increases, it's necessities increase, but the very thing that increases 'em (the draining of production manpower, which is responsible for the increase) has diminished the country's ability to supply 'em.

Fighting implements don't present the only problem.

Soldiers have to eat food and wear clothes as well as to man firearms, and the more of 'em there are, the more they eat and wear. Congress is beginning to dig into the subject.

Byrnes' Problem?

It may be one of the puzzles ex-Supreme Court Justice James F Byrnes will have to tackle, as economic stabilization director.

Don Nelson and Paul McNutt are on the spot momentarily, however General Somervell doesn't concern himself with such details at present. He simply states what the Army must have and leaves Don and Paul to do the calculating.

There's a redeeming feature relative to the issue between Army demands and civilian capacity for supplying 'em.

It must be as much of a headache to Herr Hitler as to anybody. British Ambassador Lord Halifax mentioned it the other day.

Adolf, as he observed, will be in desperate haste to launch an all-out campaign in the early spring meaning more troops—and more and more of 'em. And he hasn't got the industrial reserves that we've got

Time plays into our hands, according to Lord Halifax.

That's what has always been Germany's weakness in our times The Germans are good scrappers, but they haven't got the basic resources.

It's fortunate also. If they had 'em, they'd be almost impossible to conquer.

Flash—Willkie, naked, writes speech in Chungking.

Flash—Washington calls it barefaced speech.

Flash—That's understatement.

Wen took off the gloves in Moscow. He finished the job at Chungking.

It was so hot in China, Wen peeled off his coat, shirt and pants.

After he heard what the President said he added his socks, shoes and shorts to the pile.

The President said he wasn't reading Wen's speeches.

That's when the thermometer in Wen's room went up 20 degrees more.

Wen started out with a brief case and the President's endorsement.

Now he is down to the brief case.

LOOKING AT LIFE

—By Erich Brandeis

A wealthy lady lost her diamond brooch in Palm Beach.

It was a most gorgeous affair, valued at $15,000.

A little girl picked it up and took it to her home community, across the causeway.

She sold it to Lily May Williams for seventy-five cents, a goodly sum indeed.

Lily May showed it to the old herb doctor down the street, and he offered her one dollar for it.

Naturally, being smart, she would not turn down such a handsome profit.

Then Lily May saw the brooch listed in the lost and found column and tried to buy it back.

But the "doctor" said that the brooch had been stolen from him.

So she went to the police who found that the old herb doctor had been in a dice game, lost seventy-five cents and offered the brooch as collateral.

The police recovered it and Lily May received much more than her original four bits as a reward.

It's funny about values, isn't it?

That story is something like all these billion-dollar tales we read nowadays. Fifty billion this, eighty billions that. Just doesn't mean a thing to the average person.

But as soon as it says that out of that fifty billion your share will be five hundred dollars, then, all of a sudden, you wake up and squawk to beat the band.

Sometimes I think that all our folks in Washington would get more enthusiasm out of us in this war if they stopped talking about billions and broke it down into figures that all of us could understand.

For instance: Why not eat a fifty-cent lunch today instead of a six-bit one? Why not drink one cup of coffee instead of two? Why not buy a War Stamp instead of a lollipop?

See what I mean? There are more Lily Mays than Morgenthaus in America!

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt vows punishment for war criminals: "It is our intention that just and sure punishment shall be meted out to the ringleaders responsible for the organized murder of thousands of innocent persons and the commission of atrocities which have violated every tenet of the Christian faith."

TORONTO—Robert P. WASHINGTON—Walter E. Edge, former American ambassador to France, urges severance of relations with Vichy: "The action of Premier Laval in practically conscripting workmen as serfs, with a machine gun at their heads, certainly never will lead to a free or rejuvenated France."

SHREVEPORT—Henry L. FACT AND FANCY

The more that I learn of my Nellie the more it astonishes me;
She abandoned the dreams of her girlhood my lifetime companion to be.

The years have been forty or nearly since vows to be partners we said.
But there's nothing about me whatever, like him she was hoping to wed.

Her dream man was strikingly handsome, broad-shouldered, fair-visaged and tall,
Well-mannered and graceful and clever, and I am not like that at all.

Sometimes she had glimpsed him in pictures. I've known as together we've sat
In the darkness my Nellie was wishing that she had a husband like that.

I'm short and I'm ugly and pudgy,
I'm careless of manner and dress
And I often do that which I shouldn't. All faults I am quick to confess.

My Nellie is all that I dreamed of!
Still lovely and fair as a rose!
It's I am the big disappointment!
But that's how it frequently goes!

Tire Outlook Darkens, Transport Board Told

The dark outlook of the tire situation in New Castle and Lawrence county appeared even darker when the New Castle War Transportation Committee discussed its growing problems.

To the tire shortage, the committee, meeting in The Castleton, devoted much of its attention.

Executive Secretary Robert A. Eckles of the Lawrence County War Price and Rationing board stressed that tire quota allotments are getting smaller—rapidly.

For instance, he said, only 29 Grade 1 passenger tires have been allowed the county for October—they are for doctors, police departments, ambulances and other essential services.

Quota Governs Everything

"Many who think they are eligible for tires don't realize that if the quota has been exhausted it doesn't matter how essential their work is—they just can't get tires," Eckles told the committee.

At the end of September there were 180 approved applications for Grade 2 passenger tires (for war workers) unfilled in the county. In other words, the board has certified their approval and acknowledged their need—but the quota was exhausted, and there just were no tires. Those 180 will be carried over into this month, and as many as possible will be supplied tires.

Public Fails To Realize

Eckles told the committee, over which Transportation Administrator Thomas C. Moore presided, that the serious tire situation "isn't realized at all by the public."

The same pinch in quotas holds for every classification, the rationing board's executive said.

Hoping to drive home the importance of "sharing-the-cars," the committee weeks ago began a survey in all the plants here. Findings reflect the serious outlook Eckles spoke about.

Meanwhile, the committe is attempting to get new motor coaches for the city transit system. Orders for vehicles have not had War Production Board approval, and the committee has enlisted the aid of industrialists and others to persuade WPB to grant that approval.

High Wages Attract Very Young Workers

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—Attracted by the high wages caused by the war, 46,606 boys and girls between 14 and 17 years of age migrated from class rooms into jobs during 1941 as compared with only 22,038 during the previous year, the department of public instruction disclosed today.

Explaining that figures for 1942 were not compiled yet, the department said that the total included 33,243 working on general employment certificates, 4,591 on farm permits and 8,772 on domestic service permits. Approximately 15,467 former pupils were employed in heavy industry.

High wages increase demand, but it isn't inflationary if the demand says: "Gimme them galloping dominoes."

MORE BALLOT REQUESTS

Last minute requests for service men ballots from the election bureau of the county have brought the total up to 41, William A. Eakin, chief clerk of the bureau announced Thursday. This is thought to be all of them and the ballots will be mailed out sometime before October 19. They must be returned within ten days after the general election.

A glance over the requests shows that they came from eighteen states. Included in the list are Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Virginia, Maryland, Florida, Colorado, Delaware, Massachusetts, New Mexico, Texas, Georgia, South Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri and Nebraska.

COURTS CANCELLED

Once more it has become necessary to cancel two terms of court. Judges W. Walter Braham and John G. Lamoree issued an order Thursday cancelling the terms of court scheduled for October 19th and November 9th. Jurors will be so notified by Sheriff Badger.

PICTURE SECURED

It seems that bankers also read this column which we take as a compliment. A few days ago District Attorney Leroy K. Donaldson asked through the column if any one knew anything of the history of John P. Blair who was district attorney of this county in 1860-61-62. No one seemed to know anything of the old time official until James Taylor, vice president of the Peoples Bank saw the item.

Mr. Taylor reports that his mother was a relative of the late district attorney and that a picture could and would be secured. It appears that Mr. Blair left Lawrence County shortly after he left the office of district attorney and settled in Indiana county. A few years later he was elected judge and made a brilliant record.

REGISTRATION TOTALS

Chief Clerk A. Lewis Conn of the Office of Permanent Registration has completed the compilation of registered voters in the county and is now starting work on the listings.

The total number of voters registered in Lawrence county is 43,259. Of this number, 28,917 are Republicans, 14,024 are Democrats, 78 are Prohibitionists, 4 are Royal Oak, 196 No Party, 34 Independent, 5 Socialists, and one lone Progressive. Of the total 23,674 are men and 19,585 are women.

LUTHERN CHURCHES TO MEET NEXT WEEK

The 13th biennial convention of the United Lutheran church in America is to meet in Louisville, Ky., October 14-21. This convention promises to be a highly significant one, with the keynote centered on home and foreign missions and marking the Father Heyer and Muhlenberg anniversaries.

Other matters of major importance that will come before the convention of the church and the world at war, a revised ministerial pension plan, a report on United States army and navy chaplains, relationship to the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America and Lutheran world action.

Hints On Etiquette

The person who is a good mixer is always thinking of someone else, expressing an interest in others, and showing people by his attitude that he is sincerely interested and glad to be with them.

Navy Booklet Tells Of Hospital Corps

Explanatory pamphlets on "The Hospital Corps of the U. S. Navy" are now obtainable at the navy recruiting office in the Post Office building. First aid men, men nurses, pharmacists, embalmers and X-ray technicians may qualify and receive monthly ratings runing from $50 to $138, with allowances for wife and children.

The Navy office is open daily from eight a. m. to seven p. m.

This or that class may be deferred, but we'll all be in service, one way or another, before we start winning.

Strength Of Axis Cited By Halifax

"Time Not Necessarily On Our Side" Is Warning Of British Ambassador

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9.—Lord Halifax, the British ambassador to the United States, resumed his whirlwind tour of war industries in this vital area today after warning anew that "time is not necessarily on our side."

The ambassador, at the annual Founder's Day ceremonies of Carnegie Institute, cited numerous figures to show how Axis control of some strategc materials had increased through conquest, and how command of these natural resources changed the picture considerably since 1939.

"These," he said, "are bad figures . . . a warning to reconsider our rooted conviction that time is necessarily on our side. It may be on our side if we face these ugly facts and apply ourselves more seriously than we have yet done to organize our own sources of supply.

"It will certainly not be on our side if we think we can settle down to a nice, long, comfortable war, with a sure victory four or five years ahead. If we do that, one of these days we shall have a rude awakening."

On the optimistic side, Lord Halifax said the position of the United Nations had improved somewhat in recent months, but qualified this too by adding that "it will take us a long time to make up for the years which the locust has eaten."

"We have grown so accustomed to the idea that we command the resources of the world that very few people realize how adversely the position has changed since 1939, and especially since the entry of Japan into the war," he said.

He had a word of praise for the general Grant tanks which helped save Egypt, and for the British "Spitfires", which he termed the margin that prevented a German invasion of England in 1940.

On the schedule today for the ambassador, his wife and the other members of his party were visits to Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation's Homestead works, and Dravo corporation's Neville Island shipyard. A luncheon with local AFL and CIO leaders also was planned.

May Requisition, Scrap Unused Cars

Salvage Head Asserts Cars Not Used For Transportation Are Scrap Metal

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—Federal requisition of unused motor vehicles was seen as a possibility today by Merrill Stubbs, chief of the automotive salvage section of the W. P. B. conservation division.

Stubbs joined William N. Hardy, manager of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association, in an appeal to car owners to turn over to the scrap metal drive all vehicles which are not providing transportation. If this is not done, he added, it is quite possible that the War Production Board will be forced to requisition them.

"In a war economy," Stubbs asserted, "all automobiles must be considered in one of two ways—as transportation or as scrap—to be sold at scrap prices."

Kather To Be Held For Manslaughter

(Special To The News)

SHARON, Pa., Oct. 9.—A coroner's jury on Thursday recommended holding James D. Kather, 19, of R. D. 1, Fredonia, on charges of involuntary manslaughter until the next quarter sessions court. The charge concerns the death of William Maley of McKeesport on October 1.

Britain Plans Reprisals For Chaining Move

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The government of Prime Minister Winston Churchill, following 24 hours of "urgent consultations" between British and Canadian officials, prepared today to carry out reprisals for the chaining of British prisoners by the Germans.

An ultimatum was broadcast to Germany by the British war office declaring that a number of German prisoners, equal to the total chained by the Nazis, would be manacled at noon Saturday unless the Britons were freed of their bonds.

The Nazi high command countered with a warning that if the British carried out their ultimatum, Germany would shackle treble the number chained by Britain.

The Nazis reported through the official German radio that 107 British officers and 1,269 non-commissioned officers and enlisted men, all prisoners from Dieppe, have been shackled.

Informed British sources pointed out that should the Germans chain three times the number of prisoners than do the British, the odds were against the enemy, because Britain holds many more Axis prisoners.

Expect Over 9,000 At Educators' Meet

Pittsburgh District Conference To Be Crowded For Main Session Today

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9—More than 9,000 school teachers from Allegheny and five surrounding counties were expected to jam the Oakland area today to attend the main sessions of the western Pennsylvania education conference.

School officials listed today as an official holiday to permit teachers to attend. More than 6,000 were on hand for the opening sessions yesterday, when Dr. L. H. Dennis, executive secretary of the American Vocational Institution, sounded the keynote, "Education For Victory".

Dr. Dennis told the gathering that almost 3,000,000 men now engaged in war industries had been training in the nation's public schools, and that "we must train more than 2,000,000 again this year." He added too that "we must extend our pre-induction training program on a larger basis."

Most important address of the day is scheduled to be given by Dr. Henry W. Hill, new superintendent of Pittsburgh public schools. His address, "The Challenge of Good Citizenship in 1942", will be made this afternoon.

McQuiddy To Run For U. S. Senate

State Senator Announces Intention Of Being Candidate In 1944

Out of the Democratic rally in the Cathedral Thursday night came an announcement of a candidacy for the United States senate in 1944, although the announcement was not made from the platform. State Senator J. K. McQuiddy of Audley avenue authorized the announcement that he would be a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the United States senate in 1944.

State Senator McQuiddy has served two years in the Pennsylvania state senate and has two years left of his term. In authorizing the announcement he said, "I expect to run as a labor candidate and believe the C. I. O. will endorse me." Senator McQuiddy was in attendance at the Democratic rally but did not speak.

Major Mitchell Is Recovering

Mrs. George F. Mitchell of 717 Emerson avenue has received word from her husband, Major George F. Mitchell, stationed in northern Ireland, that he is much improved.

Major Mitchell was confined to the hospital with an attack of influenza, from which he has been discharged, and is convalescing in a private home, where he is billeted, and is receiving kind treatment.

If he smokes too much, he couldn't stand prosperity. He would overdo everything else till he got sick of it.

Mont Alto Tree Collection Huge

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—One of the outstanding and most complete native forest tree arboretums to be found in Pennsylvania is located at Mont Alto, and is under the jurisdiction of the Department of Forests and Waters. Charles E. Baer, Deputy Secretary, states that within this arboretum there are 551 species and varieties of woody plants, 144 of which are native to the Mont Alto and Michaux Forest Districts.

This arboretum was started in 1903, coincident with the establishment of the Pennsylvania State Forest Academy, at which time a collection of woody plants was started through the generosity of individuals, government agencies and institutions who contributed planting stock. Its extension later was based primarily on exchange of forest tree seeds with various states and foreign countries.

Each plant in the arboretum is tagged and there are now almost 1500 individual specimens tagged in the scope of the territory considered as the arboretum. It serves as a proving ground for exotic trees and the adaptability of such introduced plants to the climate and soils of Pennsylvania. It is used extensively by forestry students, teachers and botanists for the purpose of comparing and studying the characteristics of a great many trees and shrubs from all parts of the North Temperate zone.

Johnstown Bottle Deposit 5 Cents

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—A five-cent deposit on milk bottles today was scheduled to go into effect in the city of Johnstown on October 16 under an order of the milk control commission designed to "avoid waste of materials and reduce the cost of the distribution of milk."

Pointing out that a bottle deposit has been charged by some dealers in the area for many years, the commission predicted that the small charge "will result in bottles being carefully saved, thus avoiding much broken glass on the streets and eliminating tire damage caused by glass fragments." A one-cent bottle deposit was ordered for Tyrone borough and Snyder township in Blair county and all of Huntingdon county.

Welles Makes Accusations Against Chile And Argentina

Says Nations Aiding Axis

Assert South American Neighbors Are Being Stabbed In Back

FEAR RELATIONS TO GROW WORSE

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—A sharp turn for the worse in the official relations between the United States and Argentina and Chile today was foreseen in diplomatic quarters in Washington.

The increased strain in relations is expected to result from Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles' charge that the governments of Argentina and Chile are permitting Axis agents to stab the United States and other American republics in the back.

Welles' statement, made in an address to the national foreign trade convention in Boston last night, contained the strongest language yet used by the American government to express its growing concern over the failure of Argentina and Chile to carry out the recommendations of the inter-American conference that all of the Americas sever all relations with the Axis.

Accuses Nations

Welles accused Argentina and Chile of permitting "officials and the subversive agents of the Axis" to use their territories as "a base for hostile activities against their neighbors."

His charge came almost on the eve of the scheduled departure from Santiago of the president of Chile for a state visit to the United States. The view prevails in some diplomatic circles in Washington today that the Chilean president might cancel his visit as a result of the sharpness of Welles' statement.

In accusing Argentina and Chile of permitting Axis agents to operate in their territories, Welles said:

"As a result of the reports on allied ship movements sent by these agents, Brazilian, Cuban, Mexican, Colombian, Dominican, Uruguayan, Argentine, Chilean, Panamanian and United States ships have been sunk without warning while plying between the American republics, and as a result many nationals of these countries have lost their lives within the waters of the western hemisphere.

Stabbed In Back

"I cannot believe that these two republics will continue long to permit their brothers and neighbors of the Americas, engaged as they are in a life and death struggle to preserve the liberties and the integrity of the new world, to be stabbed in the back by Axis emissaries operating in the territory, and under the free institutions, of these two republics of the western hemisphere."

The American government has been losing patience for sometime now with the failure of Argentina and Chile to show more willingness to cooperate with the other American republics in the defense of the western hemisphere.

While the Argentine government has remained adamant in its determination to maintain strict neutrality in the war, Chile has shown some signs of a willingness to fulfill tis obligations under the inter-American conference agreement, to which it was a party.

Crash Kills Son Of Joe E. Brown

(Special To The News)

LONG BEACH, Cal., Oct. 9—Joe E. Brown's son, Captain Don E. Brown, 25, was killed on Thursday when his army bomber crashed near Palm Springs. He had only recently been promoted to a captaincy, and was on a routine flight from the Long Beach air base to Utah when the accident occurred.

The government now has enough civil employees to do half as much work as half as many could do if the others were out of the way.

Writers' Charges Denied By Dreiser

Novelist Tells Writers' War Board Canadian Speech Was Not Pro-Hitler

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—"You have allied me with Hitler," Theodore Dreiser charged Thursday in a formal reply to a denunciation by the Writers' War Board for anti-British remarks he allegedly made in a Toronto interview last month.

"I did not ally myself with Hitler and I did denounce the titled and moneyed class of England which I held and still hold to be responsible for the allies' failure to aid Russia," said the novelist.

Dreiser, barred by the Canadian government from making any public speeches there denied ever expressing any desire "to have Hitler rule the British people."

The writers' board, headed by Rex Stout and composed of such authors as Clifton Fadiman, Franklin P. Adams, Pearl Buck and Carl Carmer, criticized Dreiser for allegedly asserting in a Canadian interview that he would rather see the Germans in England than the "aristocratic horse-riding snobs of the existing regime."

No wonder our fathers thrived. The only two foods that have the six necessary vitamins and minerals are oyster stew and collards.

The Aztecs of Mexico considered the turquoise as sacred to their gods.

Says Any Strike In War Industry Is Unpatriotic

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 9.—Strikes in war industries for any reason are "treasonably unpatriotic," Roane Waring, national commander of the American Legion, declared in a blunt speech today before the 62nd annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

Waring told the labor leaders that, to the fullest of his ability, he wanted to protest "the practices of some units of organized labor, in war production, in striking in this time of emergency."

He asserted that any man, who by strike action, impedes war production and causes the death of a single soldier "is a criminal, a saboteur, a traitor"—and as such should face the consequences.

Waring said he knew "the courageous and patriotic position" the A. F. of L. has taken on the strike question during the emergency. Then he proceeded to whip into those who do strike. He declared:

"I care not what their present grievances are nor what their normal rights may be. It is my firm conviction and the conviction of the American Legion, and I know it is the firm conviction of the American people, that such strikes, justified though they may be in time of peace, have no place in war industries when our very existence is in jeopardy. They are treasonably unpatriotic."

Local Man Recalls Facts On First Oil Well Drilling

W. E. Dufford, of 713 West State street, says that he recently read in a magazine the statement that Colonel Drake drilled the first oil well, at Titusville.

Mr. Dufford states that the drilling was done by the late William A. Smith, who was born and lived at Cabot, Butler county. About eighty years ago, he says, the drilling was done.

Mr. Dufford, now 78 years of age, when a boy, was acquainted with Mr. Smith, a blacksmith, stating that the latter made his own drilling tools for the work.

It was claimed at the Philadelphia Exposition in 1876, that they had on display, the original drilling tools used by Smith, but Mr. Dufford states that in this they are mistaken, and that they were the second lot made by Mr. Smith, and that the original tools are still on the old Smith property of 50 acres at Cabot, as he refused to let them go out of his possession.

The first oil that flowed, says Mr. Dufford, was gathered up by Mr. Smith's daughter Ella, in her apron, and put in a barrel near by. The land on which the first well was drilled, was owned by Colonel Drake.

Mr. Dufford came to this city from the vicinity of Cabot, sixty years ago, and was formerly employed at the Shenango Tin plant.

World War Gun Being Removed From Diamond

Work was completed this afternoon in the removal of the World War No. 1 German cannon from the public square. The artillery piece was captured in Europe, and was placed at the west end of the public square some years after the war, as a memorial. In the present scrap metal drive it was decided to send the field piece back to the Germans and Japs in the shape of bullets and war implements.

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 9.—Someone entered the Puff service station, Third and Jefferson streets, Wednesday night and made off with 25 recap tires. The only other thing they took from the garage was a quantity of pennies; police believe this may have been done to lead them to think the theft was the work of youths. The crime was not discovered until Thursday morning.

Hedges Against Inflation Discussed By Babson; Some Investment Ideas

By ROGER W. BABSON

(Copyright, 1942, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

NEW YORK CITY, Oct. 9.—With all this talk about INFLATION there are yet too many investors who do not know what to do. A recent trip to Wall Street convinces me that investors are not fearful of losing the war, but afraid of losing the peace. In short, they are worrying about what will happen to their money after the war but are doing nothing about it. This explains why stock-brokers are starving and banks are bulging with money.

BABSON

Investors Have Responsibilities

People who today are free from debt and yet hide their money in the bank are like the proverbial ostrich which hides his head in the sand. Both are trying to meet impending changes by inaction and refusing even to think. Readers should consider their children and grandchildren. The possession of money is a trust and this trust cannot be avoided by letting the purchasing power of one's money melt away by lying idle in the banks.

This does not mean that your bank will be unable to pay you after the war. Banks are stronger today than ever before. Every dollar you have in the bank will be paid back to you when you need it. But the purchasing power of these dollars is "melting" away every month. The dollars which you have in the bank now will not buy, after the war, what they will buy today.

In What To Invest

"Then what shall I do with my money?" you ask. The usual answer to this question is to invest: first, in a good home with enough land for a vegetable garden; second, in other properly located revenue-producing real estate, and third, in good stocks. When asked what "good" means, I reply "stocks of companies without debts and which hold large reserves of raw materials and natural reserves such as oil, timber, metal, ore, natural gas, coal, chemicals, etc." My favorite of all natural resources is an honestly acquired good water power.

Even such good companies have one worry, namely taxes. They are subject not only to income taxes, excess profits taxes, and all the other kinds of taxes to which every corporation is subject, but they will have big real estate taxes to pay in addition. These real estate taxes will go up as the value of the dollar goes down.

Chain Stores Worth Considering

My own policy is a half-way compromise. I do not leave much money in the bank, but keep it rather closely invested. On the other hand, I do not now try to beat the inflation race by buying steels, oils or even the popular chemicals. To me, the chain stores—especially the good grocery chains—look best. They buy at fixed, or market, prices and quickly sell at fixed, or market, prices whatever those prices may be. People must eat and they pay these stores cash. These stores, moreover, do business at such a very small per unit profit, no one can complain. They surely are the friend of both the poor and the well-to-do.

Many of my friends are rooting for the railroads as investments to meet inflation, but I don't see it. If we are in for a long war, their advice is temporarily good. Those who buy "rails" today, however, are gambling on the length of the war and I do not believe in gambling. I had rather buy even the stocks of certain utilities which are now being so unmercifully persecuted. Some day they will receive justice; they are in a growing business, and they are not "tied, bound and shackled" by labor unions as utilities require comparatively little labor.

Remember To Diversify

Of course, the safest policy of all is to diversify your investments among many companies and many industries. Don't get "hipped" on anything or anybody. The United Nations will win this war. The present economic system, with private property as a base, will continue. The rationing, price-fixing, labor catering, etc., which may be necessary today, are ultimately to result in the New Deal's downfall. The surest bet of all is that some day the Republicans will return to power with a landslide!

My father used to have a printed card on his desk reading: "The time to buy is when no one else wants to buy". This—in my judgment—especially now applies to timid American investors. This is no time to rush to the banks and leave them your money just because others are doing it. This is a cowardly thing to do. I believe it is more patriotic, more profitable and more safe to put this money to work—but diversify and keep out of debt.

Two More Facts

(1) The $8,500,000,000 which the senate tax bill provides is in addition to the $17,000,000,000 which we are already paying in Federal taxes. Even this makes a total of only $25,500,000,000 or about one third the 1943 annual cost of World War II to the United States. Surely inflation is inevitable.

(2) The industrial average for leading stocks listed on the London Stock Exchange now stands at about 85 which is the highest figure since March 16, 1939. The lowest was 49.4 on June 26, 1940. The industrial average of the New York Stock Exchange is now about 109 which is 38 points lower than the March 16, 1939 figure. This shows how the English investors are more forehanded than are we in preparing for this inevitable coming inflation era.

Indicted For Sale Of Rationed Sugar

Former Bootlegger Charged With Selling In Illegal "Black Market"

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Irving Wexler, who as Waxey Gordon was a former king of the underworld and one of the prohibition era's biggest bootleggers, was indicted Thursday on a charge of selling rationed sugar in the "black market."

Indicted with Waxey, who in October of 1940 was paroled from Leavenworth prison after serving seven years for income tax evasion, was Simon Hirshberg who was described as his chief lieutenant during prohibition.

The indictment charges conspiracy to violate an office of price administration rationing order regulating sale of sugar under authority of the second war powers act.

"I hope this will serve as a warning to prohibition bootleggers, both the kingpins and their underlings, that any attempt on their part to create black markets on any rationed commodities would be regarded as sabotage of the war effort and would be vigorously prosecuted," U. S. Attorney Mathias Correa said.

"The old time bootleggers are sadly mistaken if they think that the rationing laws afford a new happy hunting ground for profitable crime. They will find that aiding the enemy is neither popular nor profitable."

File Suit Against Kin Of Bergdoll

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—Two Philadelphia realtors filed suit for $19,500 on Thursday against the wife and nephew of draft dodger Grover C. Bergdoll in connection with sale of the Maryland farm where Bergdoll's mythical "pot of gold" was buried.

Bergdoll used the "pot of gold" story to escape from federal agents when he was arrested for draft evasion during the first World War. The farm is a 132-acre property at Somerset, Maryland.

The realtors, Archibald Y. Allen and Albert Hall, declared Mrs. Berta Bergdoll and Louis J. Bergson, Jr., as trustees, refused to go through with sale of the farm after accepting an offer of $290,000 from the Defense Homes Corporation.

Pardon Board Sits October 21 And 22

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9—The Pennsylvania Board of Pardons announced Thursday that it would hear on October 21 and 22 the appeals of 128 convicts, among them 24 serving life sentences for murder, for commutations and pardons.

Four of the life termers were originally sentenced to be electrocuted but were reprieved. They are Jacob C. Lehman, Montgomery county; Joseph Diana, Allegheny; James Pugliese, Jefferson; and Albert Toms, Crawford.

COMMISSION CHANGES STATE TAXI RULING

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—Conforming with an order of the Office of Defense Transportation, the Public Utility Commission on Thursday announced a revision of its ruling regulating the use of taxicabs.

The Commission's new order fixed a 35-mile-an-hour speed limit and banned the operation of taxicabs more than 10 miles outside a community, trips of more than 25 miles, and cruising.

Both orders were issued to conserve tires.

BROOKLYN SCRAP DRIVE PAST GOAL

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Piling junk on the nation's scrap pile at the unprecedented rate of 4,000,000 pounds an hour, residents of Brooklyn Thursday surpassed their original goal of 25,000,000 pounds, with the end nowhere in sight.

In the largest of New York's five boroughs an army of 10,000 workers had collected 22,360,545 pounds by 10 a. m. to add to the 57,000,000 pounds already collected in two other boroughs — Richmond and Queens.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The war production board on Thursday issued an order closing between 200 and 300 gold mines and releasing an estimated 3,000 to 4,000 men for mining operations more essential to the war program.

The order prohibits the breaking out of new ore after Oct. 15 and provides that all operations at the mines affected must stop within 60 days, except the minimum work necessary to maintain buildings, machinery and equipment in safe condition.

The order applies to territories and possessions as well as to the continental United States. Principal gold producing states are California, South Dakota, Colorado, Montana, Nevada, Arizona and Utah.

RECORD SUM SPENT BY STATE TOURISTS

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—Tourists spent $415,268,000 in Pennsylvania during 1941, Secretary of Commerce Mark S. James disclosed Thursday.

James said the tourists spent a "record total" last year in the Keystone State despite "a widely-publicized infantile paralysis outbreak" and gasoline shortages, surpassing by 10 per cent the amount spent in any previous year.

Candidates Of Democrats Here

Ross Attacks Record Of Administration Of Governor Arthur James

OTHER CANDIDATES SPEAK TO VOTERS

Attacking the administration of Governor Arthur H. James, and pleading for a Democratic victory in order to aid the national administration efforts to win the war and write the peace, Auditor General F. Clair Ross, Democratic candidate for governor, spoke to a group of voters in the Cathedral Thursday night. On the platform with him were other candidates for state and federal office.

Assails Leadership

Mr. Ross assailed the leadership of the Republican party and charged it was dominated by Joseph R. Grundy and Joseph N. Pew Jr. He scored the voting record of Congressman Louis E. Graham on preparedness measures and said he was "ashamed of Graham's record in the House."

Mr. Ross promised, if elected, to have an old age assistance bill passed that would keep old people in the "American way," promised to repeal the four mill property tax, to increase teachers' salaries in keeping with the increased cost of living, and to provide the increases from state funds, and to provide larger school subsidies out of state funds. He pleaded for the support of all candidates upon the Democratic ticket.

Shaw Presides

The meeting was opened by County Chairman John B. Shaw who called upon Inez B. Peel, candidate for Congress-at-large. Miss Feel based her reasons for election upon the grounds that women are becoming more and more important in the industrial scheme of things and that they deserved more recognition in Congress.

Peter P. Reising of Beaver, candidate for Congress, stressed the fact that he was a laboring man, that he had served labor well as a member of the general assembly and would represent them as well in Congress. He also scored the voting record of Congressman Graham on preparedness measures.

Judge Musmanno

Judge Michael A. Musmanno, candidate for superior court, emphasized the age of his Republican opponent Judge Joseph Stadtfeld. He commended Judge Stadtfeld as a citizen and his record as a judge but asked the audience if they thought a man of 82 was mentally alert enough to decide important questions that come before the superior court.

Presley N. Jones, candidate for the general assembly from New Castle, spoke briefly and said that he would give the history of his fight against the collection of delinquent per capita taxes on October 13. James B. Kelso, candidate from the second district of the county for the general assembly acknowledged an introduction.

W. C. Powers, legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, spoke and commended the record of the candidates who had served in legislative halls. Jury Commissioner T. A. D. Shields acknowledged an introduction.

State Chairman David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, scheduled to be present, did not appear nor did Elmer Kilroy, candidate for lieutenant-governor, Grover C. Ladner, candidate for supreme court, and Warren Hess, candidate for secretary of internal affairs.

Tail Gunner Bags Five Nazi Planes

Donora, Pa., Sergeant, Four Times Wounded, Keeps Grinning, Swearing And Firing

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 9.—It takes more than Nazi bullets to put Sgt. Edward M. Jones of Donora, Pa., out of commission.

Jones, tail gunner in a powerful U. S. Flying Fortress during last Friday's gigantic daylight raid on Meaulte, France, was wounded four times—but he is believed to have personally accounted for five Nazi planes.

The Fortress in which Jones was an important member of the crew, fought off no fewer than 20 enemy aircraft at one time, and perhaps more. The big "Fort" was badly crippled by anti-aircraft shot—one shellburst riddled the right wing, and shells and bullets set fire to two of the craft's motors.

Jones and Radio Gunner Ned R. Herstzan of Los Angeles, who also bagged a German plane, were hospitalized.

Pilot Lieut. F. Z. Schwerzenbek of the Fortress paid tribute to Jones.

"He was magnificent," said the Pennsylvanian's commanding officer. "Hit four times, he was grinning and swearing at the Germans and still trying to fire his guns. When he was lifted from the plane, he held up five fingers to indicate the number of planes he shot down alone."

Jones sitll was grinning when he was taken to a hospital where his wounds were treated.

HEARINGS HELD

Before Alderman James C. Brice, 12 of the 14 cases charging illegal sale of liquor were disposed of Wednesday night. Two of the twelve, James Hilton and Ludwiga Skarbeck pleaded guilty, and one, Angeline Yanessa, waived a hearing. The others, Josephine Plonka, Jennie Lee Sam, Axie Wallace, Flander White, Antoinette Toschi, Hazel "Mom" Restone, Henry Johnson and Rose Dentino were held for court in $500 bail. Two cases were continued for a short time.

If he howls for his rights, he usually means his right to hurt the war effort while better men are dying.

Holiday Lighting Will Be Permitted In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9 — The darkness that has engulfed Europe will not blot out the Yuletide light in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Arnaud C. Marts, executive director of the State Defense Council, announced today that "if present conditions continue to prevail" outdoor decorative Christmas lighting will be permitted.

Marts notified local defense councils that Christmas decorations must be so arranged that their lights can be extinguished on a moment's notice.

IF CHILD IS ABLE TO WRITE NAME HE CAN JOIN LIBRARY

This is the season when 6-year olds who are starting to school come to the junior department of the public library to fill out cards as junior patrons. They are generally ushered up the stairs to the junior department by a brother or sister a year or two older, who acts very important because he successfully negotiated the important business of joining the library last fall, and so knows the ropes.

The only qualification that a child must have to enroll as a borrower is that he be able to write or print his name which not all of them that come in can do. Here Miss Alice Joyce, junior librarian, helps out as much as she can.

Occasionally, but not often, a child comes in who can qualify, even though she isn't in school yet. One of the youngest subscribers the library has is Rita Mae Mariacher, 4, of Pearson street, who printed her name on a card the other day all by herself and did a very neat job of it too.

During September, 84 youngsters joined the library as new junior subscribers.

War Department Move Awaits Administration Approval To Begin Hearings

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9—Sen. Reynolds (D) S.C., chairman of the senate military affairs committee, said Thursday that he expects an administration recommendation for drafting of 18 and 19 year old youths to reach congress in about a week.

The War Department, which has consistently urged lowering of the draft age limit, now has a recommendation pending in the budget bureau awaiting administration approval, he said.

"When the recommendation is received we will ask for a report of the War Department and then begin hearings as soon as it is received," said Reynolds.

First Merchant Marine Distinguished Service Medal Awarded Seaman

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Recognizing what he termed a "form of valor just as important as valor on a fighting ship," President Roosevelt on Thursday awarded the first Merchant Marine distinguished service medal to Edwin F. Cheney, Jr., 25-year-old Yeadon, Pa., seaman who displayed unusual heroism following the torpedoing of his tanker last March.

"This is really a historic occasion," the president told the tall, slender young merchant seaman after he had pinned the medal on Cheney's lapel.

"It recognizes a form of valor just as important as valor on a fighting ship. There are going to be more of these."

Mr. Roosevelt shook hands with Cheney and congratulated him warmly after a brief struggle to open the star shaped medal for presentation.

"These things are all alike—they're terrible," the president murmured in mock agitation as he fumbled with the medal. "I still can't get the thing undone," he said finally with a laugh, handing it to Admiral A. P. Fairfield, one of the Maritime commission and war shipping administration officials who attended the informal ceremony.

Fairfield opened the medal and returned it to Mr. Roosevelt who then, as photographers' flash bulbs went off, pinned it on Cheney's chest.

"I think that's fine," the president added, after he had read aloud the citation, "that's the best new medal I've seen yet."

As quartermaster of the Atlantic Refining company tanker, John D. Gill, Cheney was at the wheel of the ship when an enemy torpedo struck it amidships on the starboard side. Captain Allen D. Tucker gave the order to abandon ship, but Cheney's boat station was surrounded by flames. The seaman released the port life raft and then, as the raft drifted some 200 feet through the burning oil, he jumped into the water and swam submerged to the raft, coming up only to breathe.

Cheney extinguished flames on the burning raft and swam out and dragged B. Perona, a mess boy who was badly burned and lying helpless in the water to the raft. A few minutes later he rescued William Pryal who was too exhausted to swim further.

Then he guided at least six others to the raft and during the ensuing ten hours until the survivors were rescued, the Maritime commissions' account relates, he set "a fine example" for his shipmates by his cheerful optimism, despite his own burns.

Since his act of last March Cheney has been torpedoed a second time. He spent almost three weeks in a hospital and a month of convalesence and then shipped on a sister ship of the Gill.

The smartest soldiers must have a general to plan the campaign. Why expect each civilian to decide where he can be most useful?

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

A lighted whistle buoy is more like a floating light house than anything else. It weighs several tons, is moored to warn ships at sea, and operates a flashing light. The siren is operated by suction, created by the rise and fall of the buoy in the water. The device costs about $6,000.

These safety devices are important to coastal vessels, especially to vessels running without lights during war time. You can help buy them for the Navy and the Coast Guard with your investment in War Bonds and Stamps. Put at least ten percent of your income in these war time securities every payday and become a member of the patriotic "Ten Percent Club."

Over 300 Have Registered For Defense Classes

Special Late Registrations Will Be Taken On Next Tuesday Evening

More than 300 men and women of New Castle and vicinity have registered for the tuition-free war training courses being offered at New Castle Senior high school by the Pennsylvania State college and Carnegie Tech, through the facilities of Westminster college, it was announced today by J. F. Diffley, administrative head of the local center.

A special late registration for those interested persons who have not yet had the chance to register will be held at New Castle high school, Tuesday evening, October 13, from 7 to 10 p. m., Mr. Diffley said. This has been brought about in response to requests of those who have been unable to enroll because of shifts, hours and other work difficulties.

In addition to openings in all courses being offered, larger membership is needed particularly in the following: Metallurgy of Welding, Safety Engineering, Time and Motion Study, Production Control and Foundations of Engineering I.

General prerequisite for the courses is a high school education or its industrial equivalent and instruction is of college level, although no college credit is given. Most of the classes will be held two evenings a week for about 16 weeks.

New Castle women and older men are urged to register for this training if they have not already done so, since local war industries, whose employment needs have been exhaustively studied by the college representatives, are in great need of their services to take the places of men workers entering the armed forces.

Classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, instead of Monday and Wednesday, as previously announced. This change has been deemed advisable because of the recently inaugurated Monday evening shopping hours.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Appointment of Benjamin V. Cohen to be counsel to Economic Director James F. Byrnes was confirmed at Byrnes' office.

Cohen, longtime New Dealer, who has held several legal and administrtive posts in the Roosevelt setup, will be assisted by Donald Russell of Spartsburg, S. C.

Contributions Start For "Screwball Scrap"

Folks are proving themselves to be scrap minded in New Castle. A few days ago a story was run asking for contributions to a "Screwball Scrap" collection. The idea was to put a laugh into the collection campaign but two contributions reported today bring a lump into your throat. They are stories of women who are so interested in helping with the war they are willing to part with priceless family heirlooms.

Take a look at these contributions. Mrs. Edna Maxler, of 419 Fairmont avenue has an iron kettle that was pounded out by a deaf and dumb man when her grandmother was six weeks of age. Mrs. Maxler's grandmother was crossing the country with her parents in a convoy of seventeen wagons at the time. Indians' attacked the party and only three of the wagons got through.

Other Relics

Mrs. Maxler also has a heavy bean kettle with a heavy iron lid which was fashioned for outdoor cooking. This belonged to her great grandmother, and a heavy steel tank within a tank that is too heavy for her to move. All of these heirlooms Mrs. Maxler gives willingly to the Screwball Scrap Collection and as he accepts them for the scrap collection the Screwball Scrapper will be pardoned if he wipes away something that seems to be in his eyes.

Mrs. Flaven of 1007 South Mercer street, in the name of her daughter Maxine Paul Flaven is donoting a copper kettle over 100 years of age which came from a little town in Russia just half a mile over the German border.

That little town is under German domination just now and the Screwball Scrapper hopes that the copper in this old kettle may make the bands for shells that will drive the German horde out.

Paula the daughter is a tot of four years of age but an adept in double baton twirling. She has paraded a great deal and has spoken at bond sales meetings.

These items give you an idea of what people are thinking and doing. You have some metallic objects around the house that you have a sentimental attachment to, but if the sentiment goes back any farther than the gifts of the two women mentioned, they must be right old. You can help this scrap drive by donating them and if they are unusual, put them in the Screwball Scrap Collection and at the end of the drive a picture will be taken of them. Call 879 and ask for the Screwball Scrapper. If he isn't there, the secretary will take your message.

STATE STORES ARE PICKETTED

With the exception of the Produce street warehouse and store, all state liquor stores are closed in the county today and pickets are stationed in front of them. The Produce street store is being operated by a supervisor and the manager but no clerks are on duty.

Some hope of a settlement of the state liquor store strikes over the state is seen in a meeting to be held today in Harrisburg, wtih members of the State Liquor Control Board.

Lewis Given Purge Power

By JACK VINCENT
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 9.—The thirty-seventh annual convention of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers Union today adopted a resolution giving Lewis the power to "purge" the last big C.I.O. leader in the miners' ranks from the U.M.W.

The resolution gave Lewis authority to conduct an investigation into the affairs of District No. 5 headed by Pat Fagan of Pittsburgh, Pa., a close friend of C.I.O. President Phil Murray. It was believed certain that Fagan ultimately will be read out of the U.M.W. There was not a single "no" voiced against the resolution, not even from delegates from District 5.

Resolutions also were adopted by the convention pledging all-out aid to the war effort and urging that the social security age be lowered from 65 to 55 for coal miners.

Homecoming Day For Westminster

Special Program Is Arranged At College On Saturday For Guests

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 9.—Many alumni and former students of Westminster college will return to the campus tomorrow, October 10, for the eighty-eighth annual Homecoming Day celebration.

Formerly held later in the fall, Homecoming Day has been scheduled earlier this year by college officials to avoid cold and inclement weather.

Despite the pinch of tire-rationing and curtailed transportation facilities, a large number of former students are expected to return to the campus for the day's activities.

Starting at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, the Homecoming Day program will open with a women's hockey game played between teams of the Women's Athletic Association and a college all-star group. This event is always a popular attraction with early arrivals on the campus.

Because of the accelerated college war program, the regular schedule of Saturday morning classes will be followed, and there will be no special chapel assembly as in past years. Luncheons will be served by the various sororities and fraternities and at Hillside, men's dormitory, at 12:30.

Feature attractions of the day will be the Westminster-Hiram football game at 2 o'clock. Last year the Titans downed the Terriers, 20-0. During the halftime, returning alumni will see the finish of the cross-country meet between the two schools, and also an exhibition by the Westminster band.

Following the game there will be get-togethers in Browne Hall lounge, and later dinners with the various sorority and fraternity groups.

Climaxing the celebration will be the annual Homecoming Day dance in the college gymnasium.

Need Trucks To Collect Scrap

Just a minute, neighbor. Can you drive a truck? Can you help load scrap on to a truck? Are you willing to lend a hand in the collection of scrap in New Castle on October 17?

You are? Dandy. Now here's what is wanted. Some truck drivers are needed for the trucks to be used on October 17 in New Castle and helpers are needed to go along with the trucks. These helpers will wear official arm bands, assuring the citizens that the truck is out under the auspices of the salvage committee.

They will answer questions, aid in loading the trucks and in other ways do a day's work for a cause that shouldn't need but one notice?

So, if you can drive a truck or you are willing to ride a truck as a volunteer helper, call 879 and tell J. Lee McFate, city collection director, you want to help take a sock at the Axis and you will be more than welcome.

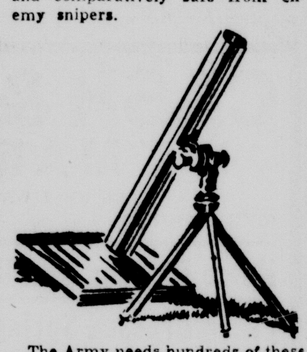
What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The 81-mm Trench Mortar is the big brother of the 60-millimeter mortar and costs $700 each. It is a short range gun, firing in an arc at the rate of about 35 shells per minute. Because of its trajectory, the gun crew can be out of sight and comparatively safe from enemy snipers.



The Army needs hundreds of these efficient guns. You can help obtain them by investing at least ten percent of your income regularly, every payday, in War Bonds and Stamps. Buy War Bonds and Stamps from your bank, your postoffice, or at some other conveniently located issuing agent. For every $3 you invest, you get $4 at maturity.

Homecoming Day At Slippery Rock

(Special To The News)

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Oct. 9 — It's "Homecoming Day" at Slippery Rock State Teachers college on Saturday, October 10. The two big feature of the program will be the football game at 2 p. m., with the Lock Haven Teachers eleven and the homecoming dance in the evening, with Eddie Frazier's orchestra. The usual all-day series of events has been curtailed due to wartime tire and gasoline shortages.

Coach Thompson, despite injuries to three of his veteran gridders, will be able to throw a strong team into the field against Lock Haven. Last week at Indiana two backfield regulars, Reardon and Menoher, suffered severe leg injuries which will keep them on the bench for two weeks. Tackle Bert Wagner's leg was fractured in the opener with Westminster and he is out for the season.

OCD NOTES

Activities Of O. C. D. Workers Are Outlined In This Column

FORMING CLASS

Sixth precinct of the Fourth ward is forming a new class for air raid wardens. There are not enough in that district and volunteers are asked to apply to the chief warden of the precinct. In fact, according to a bulletin issued by C. A. R. W. Frank Sargent today there is a big need for enlistments in all branches of the OCD. No one can qualify unless they undergo a course of instruction. The First Aid instructions once learned will be valuable long after the war ends.

USE OF PHONES

F. T. Sargent, C. A. R. W., local OCD, today issued a bulletin, as follows:—

"Under date of September 17, 1942, a bulletin regarding telephone use, was sent to all Council of Defense. On October 6, 1942 representatives of the County Council of Defense and Local Council of Defense, met with representatives of the Bell Telephone Company to discuss the above named bulletin.

"Many things were discussed at this meeting, one of which is the fact that persons connected with the Warden's Service have been guilty of making telephone calls notifying persons, who have no connections with OCD, that a blackout was coming. This is in violation of our teachings in our classes and in the manuals, and must be discontinued during all future blackouts and alerts.

"Another thing is the congestion of telephone facilities from the number of calls made, by the fan-out of calls as we have been making them in the past. For example, you get your call from headquarters, and you in turn make several calls, and this same procedure is done all over the city, then you can readily see the amount of load that will be placed on the telephone facilities for an unexpected blackout or an alert. We have been ordered to discontinue our yellow, red and white calls. You will, in the future, get a combination yellow and blue call signal only. You will have to listen for the audible signal for your red, in other words when the sirens and whistles sound, you will know the blackout is on.

"New sirens have been installed in some locations, others will be installed very shortly. Until all siren installation is complete, we will have to listen very closely for these signals."

HELP PREVENT FIRES

"Fire started by an incendiary bomb is no more destructive than a fire started by carelessness," said D. O. Davies, chairman of the local Council of Defense as he outlined the part that Civilian Defense leaders are taking in activities to prevent fires.

"Fire is a weapon that the enemy will use against us if he can," the chairman said, "and the British have found that fire can be more destructive than high explosives. During this week (Fire Prevention Week,) every citizen should learn how to help prevent fires. If all take advantage of this opportunity, our community will be in a much better position to protect itself from fires started by air raiders, as well as those of our own making.

Clear Rubbish Away

"No one should delay longer in clearing rubbish and other inflammable material from their attic and basement. Not only will they reduce the fire danger but at the same time they will find articles needed in the salvage campaign."

"Fire Prevention Week is not an empty gesture," he added. "The National Fire Protection Association, which has sponsored this event for many years, has found that in communities where its lessons are taken to heart, a substantial reduction in the annual losses due to fire may be expected. Thoughtlessness—largely with matches, cigars and cigarettes—is responsible for 170,000 forest fires annually, according to the U. S. Forest Service. This year, it is imperative that our fire losses be reduced and I hope that every citizen is participating in the week's programs."

Christmas Date At Kiska Will Be Kept

Father Hubbard Hopeful Of Eating Dinner There With American Soldiers

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Father Bernard R. Hubbard, authority on Alaska and famed as the "Glacier Priest," enjoyed today the role of a prophet who hardly had uttered his prediction before its fulfillment seemed to have begun.

Only a few days ago in an interview in Chicago, he expressed the conviction that U. S. Army and Navy forces soon would drive the Japanese out of the Aleutians. So certain he was of this that he made an engagement with American flyers to eat Christmas dinner with them at Kiska, Alaska, now occupied by the Japs.

Last night he introduced a lecture to a capacity audience in the Chicago civic opera house by reading from a newspaper which bore the first news of the navy's announcement that there were no longer any signs of the Japs either on Attu, the westernmost island first seized by the Japs, nor on nearby Aggatu, where the enemy also had established a base.

Beaming with gratification, Father Hubbard said:

"This is the first time I've ever begun a lecture by bringing out a newspaper. I'm not the one to say 'I told you so,' but three weeks ago the flyers in Alaska told me they'd soon have the Japs out of Alaska. I've promised to have Christmas dinner with our troops in Kiska—and that's an engagement I'm going to keep."

He termed Japan the "chief enemy" and warned that the Nipponese are fatalistic people who will not surrender, but "must be exterminated like ants."

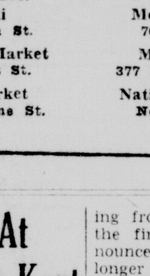
The supply of spendable funds in the United States continues to mount, each month setting a new all-time record, says the department of commerce.

You can now get all vitamins in one ampule, but Alas only a sword swallower can squeeze it down.

LOANS FOR EMPLOYED WOMEN

We're addressing any employed woman in this community who has a problem which cash can solve.

Borrowing money is never wise if it means making difficulties worse . . . but there are certain circumstances in which a well-planned loan is the best way to get out of debt.



And when ready cash isn't available for needed medical or dental work, needed clothing, for training which will increase one's earning power—then a loan is also common-sense.

Here at Personal Finance Company we specialize in serving women. If you need cash—$10 to $250 or more—we'll see that you get it without embarrassment or delay, on just your own signature, without involving your friends or employer. There is no difficulty in handling monthly payments on a loan here. For example:

$10.05 per mo. pays $100 loan in 12 mos.

If you need cash, we'll be glad to serve you. Special quick service during lunch hour. Come in or phone. It will be a pleasure to serve you. Personal Finance Company, 2nd Floor, Woods Bldg., New Castle, Pa. Phone 2100.

Sanatorium Is Leased By U. S.

Government Arranges For Use Of Sanatorium On Butler Road

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—The unused $3,000,000 Butler sanatorium has been leased to the army as a military hospital at an annual rental of $160,000, it was announced today by the General State Authority.

David H. Diehl, executive director of the Authority, said the rental will cover maintenance expenses and carrying charges.

The action was unanimously voted by the Authority today, and Diehl said that all that remained to complete the arrangements was the signing of the necessary legal papers.

The army was reported prepared to convert the 600-bed institution into a 1,500-bed hospital for convalescent soldiers.

The sanatorium, originally constructed in 1937 by the Authority for the care of tubercular patients, was never opened. Gov. Arthur H. James announced several weeks ago that negotiations with the army for its use were nearing completion.

War Ends Dinners At Hendersonville

Traditional Wednesday Noon Events At Rural Church Are Stopped By Shortages

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Oct. 9.—Hitler's to blame for the termination of the Wednesday-noon dinners, held weekly for more than 25 years at the Hendersonville Methodist church east of here. In a quarter of a century these events have attracted regular patronage from Grove City Stoneboro, Sandy Lake and Franklin, and announcement that they would be discontinued for the duration was received with general regret.

The ladies in charge felt that their action was a patriotic duty since so many patrons used gasoline and rubber needed in the war effort to reach the rural church each Wednesday. Shortages of meat and coffee, too, were a factor.

For many years, the Hendersonville ladies charged 25c for the dinner, served cafeteria style. Patrons were served far more than they could eat of home-cooked foods. Ten years ago the prices was raised to 35c, and last spring to 40c. The ladies purchased meat, bread and coffee, and donated a wide variety of other foods from their own kitchens. At noon, a dinner bell would summon men from the fields to join patrons from nearby towns. Attendance average sixty in summer and 25 in winter.

From the proceeds of these dinners, the ladies have paid for $5,500 in church repairs, bought an altar painting for $225, and installed stained glass windows costing $800. Today the Hendersonville church, now 109 years old, with a membership of only 40, is a handsome structure in landscaped grounds, and is entirely free of debt, due to the weekly dinners.

The dinners started 25 years ago as a quilting and social time, with the men invited to dinner at noon. Soon, the public was invited, and the excellent food and homey atmosphere won many regulars. The quilting feature has been retained, the ladies working together and selling the product for one cent a yard.

The ladies promise to resume the weekly dinners after the war.

Historic "Oregon" May Be Scrapped

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 — Reversing a previous decision, the navy said today that it probably would be necessary to reconsider the scrapping of the historic battleship U. S. S. Oregon which has long been used as a floating museum at Portland.

The decision was made public in a letter to Oregon Governor Charles A. Sprague from Undersecretary of Navy James Forrestal. Several weeks ago the navy denied reports that the relic would be scrapped to provide war material.

Nazi Slavery Victims Plot "Hate-Inspired" Revenge On Quislings

By ERNEST ZAUGG
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

BERNE, SWITZERLAND, Oct. 9.—Nazi officials, desperately battling a wave of hate-inspired sabotage in occupied Europe, are receiving merely a mild sample of what their victims plan for them after Germany goes down in defeat, reports reaching neutral Switzerland indicated today.

Nazi oppression, with its doctrines of treachery, hate and terror, has imbued these captive peoples with but one thought, these reports showed—to bide their time, then even the score. Already, as German Legions battle futilely to take Stalingrad and as Nazi industry begins to creak and groan under the relentless pounding of the RAF, strong waves of sabotage are sweeping Norway, Denmark, Poland and Czechoslovakia, undeterred by firing squads and Gestapo tortures.

But when defeat strikes Germany, the Nazi minorities in European nations, used as quislings and as highly-trained overseers of the slave labor, will be the first to feel the weight of vengeance, these reports said. These "folk Germans," trained so that a few hundred can oversee thousands of captive laborers, have won the hatred of their victims, especially in Russia.

Seek To Protect Quislings

The Nazis are moving hurriedly to protect these quislings by concentrating them in special quarters, protected by guards and giving them armed protection whenever they leave their fortress barracks. In countries bordering Germany—Poland, Slovenia, Czechslovakia and the Alsace-Lorraine area—they are trying to strengthen their position by moving out the native populations and bringing in Germans to build what high Nazi officials have called "a wall of German blood against the Slavic flood".

Even among the Axis partners this question of the German minority has raised ugly problems. The Hungarian foreign office complained to Berlin that Germans in Hungary felt themselves apart from other residents. Their complaint was met with a demand that the German-Hungarians be permitted to serve directly in the German army instead of in the Hungarian army, as previously.

Doctrine Backfires

The Nazi doctrine that "the only good (Pole, Czech or other victim) is a dead or ignorant Pole" has backfired with her fear-inspired Allies preaching that teaching against each other.

Hungarians are using the doctrine against Serbs, the Romanians preach it against the Hungarians and all Europe has been seething with this mutual distrust. The Hungarians, according to reports here, recently slaughtered tens of thousands of Serbs in the Banat, while Romanians battered Hungarian peasants to pulp—then kicked them over the border back into Hungary.

But the principal sufferer has been the Jew, long the prime target of Hitler terror. Every puppet ruler, every quisling, even the few remaining parliaments, fear to lessen pressure on the Jews within their borders for fear of risking Hitler's ire.

Mileage Halved In Gas-Rationed Area

Pennsylvania Shows Travel Is About 50 Per Cent Less Than In Unrationed Zone

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9. — Motor vehicle travel in that section of Pennsylvania where gasoline is rationed is approximately 50 per cent less than in the non-rationed territory, according to tabulations of the department of highways.

Data obtained from 30 permanently located traffic recorders for August shows that traffic in the rationed area had dropped off 45.91 per cent as compared with the same month of 1941. In the non-rationed section the decline was 31.17 per cent. The drop for the entire state in August was 38.64 per cent below the corresponding month of last year.

Since the early part of the year motor vehicle traffic has shown a steady decline the department's figures reveal. There was an increase in 1.7 per cent in January but after that the trend started downward. The drop has been increasing monthly.

The February decrease was 7.71 per cent; March 10.50 per cent and April 16.75 per cent. In May the department began making tabulations for both the rationed and non-rationed sections of Pennsylvania. In each of the four months for which these figures are available the decline in traffic where gasoline is rationed is considerably higher than in the non-rationed part of the state.

The statewide drop in traffic for May was 22.52 per cent but in the rationed area it was 29.34 per cent and the non-rationed territory 18.27 per cent. In June the statewide decline had jumped to 31.65 per cent while in the rationed section the drop was 37.98 per cent, as compared with 25.21 per cent in the western portion of Pennsylvania.

For July the statewide decrease in motor vehicle traffic was 34.10 per cent. However, in the rationed area the drop was 39.75 per cent but only 28.45 per cent in the non-rationed area.

Records of the department show that previously August was the month of heaviest travel. This year May held that position.

Other figures gathered by the department show that collections of the gasoline tax are dropping slower than the decline in traffic. Increased truck traffic is given as a reason for this more gradual decrease in gas tax collections.

While the traffic recorders show there was an increase of 1.7 per cent in traffic for January gasoline tax collections in that month were 8.02 per cent higher than the same months of last year. In February with a drop of 7.71 per cent in traffic, gas tax collections decreased only 1.49 per cent and the month following receipts from the gas tax were 1.08 per cent under March of 1941, but traffic had dropped 10.50 per cent.

The decrease in gas tax collections for April jumped to 13.81 per cent below the corresponding month of last year. July, the last month for which comparisons are available, gas tax collections are 21.56 per cent below the corresponding month of 1941.

Registrations of motor vehicles also are beginning to show declines. At the end of August receipts from registrations were 7.3 per cent below the same period of last year for a monetary decrease of $2,845,182.52. The August registration business was 47.4 per cent under that of 1941.

Poisonous Snake Bite Kills Child

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—Three-year-old Sydney Hutzel, of New Bloomfield, R. D. No. 1, is dead, the victim of a poisonous reptile.

The child died Wednesday night in a Harrisburg hospital less than seven hours after he is believed to have been bitten by a copperhead snake while playing in the yard of his home.

The victim's mother, Mrs. Nicholas Hutzel, was attracted by the boy's cries shortly after noon Wednesday and saw what she believed to be a copperhead snake crawling nearby.

Unless the citizens of America respond at once, the war production program can bog down for lack of steel and other vital materials.

Even in peacetime, scrap provided about 50% of the raw material for steel.

It may be rusty, old "scrap" to you, but it is actually refined steel—with most impurities removed. In the steel mills this precious "scrap" is remelted with pig iron to produce the steel which goes into our machines of war.

Many steel furnaces are working from hand to mouth. Others are faced with shutting down. All need great mountains of reserve scrap to see them through the fall and winter months.

Steel production has gone up . . . up . . . UP! America is now producing as much steel as all the rest of the world combined. But unless at least 6,000,000 additional tons of scrap steel is uncovered promptly, the full rate of production cannot be attained or increased; all the tanks, guns and ships our country is counting on cannot be produced.

We can be thankful that there is enough Scrap in this country to see us through — Scrap a once wasteful nation is turning to in time of stress. It all depends on you to collect it and turn it in.

It is the greatest "Treasure Hunt" in history. Appoint yourself a committee of one to search your attic, your basement and your garage, your barnyard, your factory or your store.

Then give your pile to a charity or collection agency—or sell it to a Junk dealer. The Junk which you collect is bought by industry from scrap dealers at established, government-controlled prices.

Throw YOUR scrap into the fight!

HOW TO TURN IT IN—Put it out on the sidewalk before 8 A. M. on October 17th for collection . . . or take it to the Official Salvage Depot, rear Pennsylvania Power Co. building on S. Jefferson street. If you live on a farm, phone or write your County War Board, or consult your farm implement dealer.

Women In State Do Part In War Time

Pennsylvania Women Continue Tradition Of Serving State And Nation

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—Pennsylvania women who are today answering the call to arms in the auxiliary services of the army, navy and air corps, in production factories and civilian defense on the home front, were preceded by numerous outstanding women in Pennsylvania history who also did their part. The State Department of Commerce points to a few of the many women who contributed toward the growth of the state and the nation in various fields.

Sarah Bache, daughter of Benjamin Franklin, organized relief work during the Revolutionary War.

Philadelphia-born Anna Dickinson was a pioneer in the anti-slavery crusade.

Also born in Philadelphia, Rebecca Gratz was a leader in the organization of various charities.

Florence Kelley was active in the famous Hull House and Henry Street social work enterprises and wrote extensively on social legislation.

Hannah Longshore was one of the first graduates of Woman's Medical college in Philadelphia and achieved a distinctive medical record.

Mary Longstreet devoted much of her life in the interest of education, particularly for the Indian and Negro. She also founded a privtae school of the liberal type for girls.

Lucretia Mott took a leading part in the anti-slavery movement.

Ann Preston, born in Chester county, became a physician and a professor of physiology and hygiene at Woman's Medical college, Philadelphia.

Elizabeth Reifsnyder, also a graduate of Woman's Medical college, opened the first American hospital in China.

Eliza Spraat Turner was an ardent social worker and promoter of social causes.

Mrs. Ellen M. Watson, born in Pittsburgh, served as a nurse in the Civil War and a leader in work on the Sanitary Commission.

Other women of war included Katherine Smith, a widow, who owned a boring mill on White Deer creek, Union county, and bored gun barrels during the War for Independence; Pally Pitcher who took her husband's place at his gun during the Battle of Monmouth during the same war, and Jennie Wade who played her patriotic part by baking bread for the troops in her home in Gettysburg during the Civil War.

These and many other Pennsylvania women achieved fame for the Keystone state with unforgotten contributions setting an example to the women of today.

Jury "Hung" Again In Beer Stamp Case

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—Another "hung" jury was the outcome of the second trial of the Fernwood Brewery Co. of Fernwood, near Landsdowns, Pa., two of its officers and three other men, in federal court Thursday on charges of defrauding the government of upwards of $30,000 through the illegal re-use of beer stamps.

After the jury of seven women and five men had battled for over six hours in a vain effort to reach a verdict, Federal Judge J. Cullen Ganey dismissed it from further consideration of the case. The second trial lasted eight days.

Ray Street Commandos Going "Over The Top" For War Bonds-Scrap

Attention is drawn to a certain group of young people, who have done a marvelous job toward aiding Uncle Sam in the present war effort —THE RAY STREET COMMANDOS.

The Commandos consist of 84 individuals, all of school age, who have sold bonds and stamps totaling over $1200.

This outfit, organized under the captaincy of Mrs. Katherine Christofer of Ray street, reports to her and has meetings regularly. The boys have their sessions and the girls have their meetings. On each Thursday evening the girls meet at the home of Mrs. Christofer and sew, in preparation for complete wartime layettes.

Every evening after school they gather up scrap metal for the salvage toward making bullets for Hitler. They have acquired a large number of articles for this purpose, and are whole-heartedly interested in seeing it through. Their willingness is "to do", and they are also going to be selling Christmas Seals for the stamping out of tuberculosis, helping in this national campaign on the home front, which will be underway November 23.

Captain Christofer announces that her Commandos are expanding rapidly, and she will have organized this week another group of Commandos on the North Hill under the captaincy of Mrs. J. O. Woods. A third group will be organized next week on the East Side with Evelyn Gee captain in charge. All three groups of Commandos will co-operate in aiding with the same work being carried out by the Ray street Commandos.

Neighbors not being able to get to town to make their purchase of war stamps, bonds and Christmas Seals for the tuberculosis campaign, all national programs, have been courteous and seemingly welcome the young Commandos who cheerfully knock at their doors.

ARLINE JUDGE MARRIED

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 9.—Arline Judge, film actress, and Group Capt. James Ramage Addams of the Royal Air Force were honeymooning today after a wedding ceremony at Santa Barbara which almost was disrupted when a constable served the bride a New York court summons.

The summons named her defendant of a $2,100 suit for non-payment of rent on her Fifth avenue apartment in which she resided while she was the wife of Dan Topping, millionaire sportsman.

Blows To Enemy In Middle East

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Maj. Gen. Russell R. Maxwell, American commander in the middle east, reported Thursday that the American Air Forces sank or damaged 37 Axis ships and 14 enemy airplanes during the Egyptian campaign from early June to the end of September.

Reviewing the 110 days of smashing blows at enemy shipping and supply lines, Maxwell said that 3,161,000 pounds of bombs were dropped by U.S. army forces during the fighting in the middle east. In the month of September, American bombers commanded by Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton let loose 969,000 pounds of explosives on the Axis forces and supply lines.

Convicted For Life By One Fingerprint

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9.—A single fingerprint sent George Washington Cleveland, 29-year-old negro, to prison for life for the towel strangulation murder of Mrs. Nellie McDermott-Yavorsky last March.

A jury returned a verdict of first degree murder against him, with a recommendation of life imprisonment. The single fingerprint was found in the woman's room, although Cleveland denied he had ever seen the woman anywhere or anytime.

Bessemer To Aid Russian Relief Fund By Concert

Out in Bessemer the folks are doing more than just cheering the breath-taking defense of Stalingrad. They are cheering, of course, even as you and I, but they are doing something tangible.

On Saturday night, October 17, a concert will be presented for Russian war relief in the Bessemer high school auditorium at which will appear Zlatko Balokovic, a noted Russian violin virtuoso, who will present a concert program. The speaker will be Madame Magidoff, outstanding Russian woman, who has spoken over the United States in the past few months. All proceeds of the evening will go to the Russian war relief, a cause that is producing large crowds and a lot of money over the country just now.

British Will Chain Nazis If Germans Keep Up Practice

(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Unless Germany unchains British soldiers captured in last August's Dieppe raid, an equal number of Nazi captives will be manacled and chained beginning at noon Saturday, the British government announced Thursday.

The flat British announcement followed a German radio statement earlier that Dieppe prisoners were chained at noon.

The Nazis claimed they were taking the action because, they said, British troopers who raided German-held Sark island in the English channel last week tied five Nazi prisoners.

A government statement pointed out that Britain does not countenance the binding of prisoners of war, but that because the Germans put into operation such "illegal action", the British would follow suit.

'Canes Hope To Rebound Against Farrell

Rivals Clash Here Tonight At 8 O'clock

New Castle Resolved To Acquit Itself For Sharon Surprise Tie; Visitors Loaded With Veteran Hands; "Battle Of Music" Will Highlight Program Between Halves; Farrell gunning For Locals; Genkinger, Center, May Not Start.

Resolved to vindicate themselves for last week's surprise 13-13 deadlock, eleven sedate New Castle high gridders will lineup to combat Farrell high's challenge, under the bright lights of Taggart stadium, tonight at 8.

A party that may exceed the 9,000 mark is expected to watch the students of Phil H. Bridenbaugh and "Hank" Day, two of the smartest coaches in district scholastic ranks, empty their grid bags.

The "Hurricane" marches onto the turf with a mark of three victories and a tie while the invaders have tasted defeat twice and have emerged victorious once.

Staging Comebacks

The rival teams are trying to stage comebacks. New Castle will endeavor to rebound following the short-circuit Day's smooth working double wing assault.

His left arm and shoulder injured in the Sharon struggle, New Castle's Lee will be greatly handicapped. The running and passing master did not don his uniform until Thursday. Pete Tedesko, quarterback, also spent most of the time on the sidelines due to a boil on his back.

As game times approaches, Bridenbaugh is still undecided about Dave Genkinger, varsity center. The blond athlete hurt his side in Tuesday's scrimmage. Joe Joseph will fill in the pivot post, if Genkinger sits out. Joseph's guard station will go Henry Clark, a capable second stringer.

Because of injuries to key positions, the local offense figures to sputter in many instances.

New Castle will toss a 6-2-2-1 defense against the visitors' attack.

Loaded With Vets

Farrell's starting lineup is studded with veterans. Adams, DeCapua, Nicastro, Basilone, Trombocco, Miletta, Bencivengo, Mack, Chiappianella, Morrocco and Alter are carryovers from last season's big outfit.

As he shoved off for home nursing a 25-7 setback last season, Coach "Hank" Day shouted:

"We'll be back again next year with a good Farrell eleven and New Castle had better look out."

He will "throw the book" at New Castle in hopes of bagging the third setto between the institutions.

Last year's battle was won in the opening play when Lee scooped the kickoff on his 31 and ran 69 yards for a touchdown. The visitors are sure this won't happen tonight.

"Battle Of Music"

New Castle's bid for Class AA WPIAL honors will not be at stake because Farrell, like Sharon, is not a member of the league.

Ticket holders will be treated to a "battle of music," most of which will have a patriotic tinge, Joseph Replogle, local director, said today.

Before the game, the Farrell-New Castle bands will share in flag raising ceremony.

In between halves, the visiting band, about 85 strong, will perform first, forming a few letters and playing the alma mater of both schools.

The "Hurricane" musicians next will form an "anvil" and play the "Anvil Chorus." A selected group of students, members of Robert Duff's class, will sing.

The bands will separate and the New Castle cheer leaders will proceed to the center of the field carrying a shield 39 feet by 50. The students will sing again to the tunes of "Stars and Stripes." Playing of "Semper Fidelis" will conclude the program.

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 9.—Westminster College's undefeated harriers, Tri-State champions, will open their fall running season tomorrow when they meet Hiram college here as part of the Homecoming Day program.

The Titan cross-country men were to have started against Slippery Rock on September 26, but the Rockets dropped cross-country from their athletic set-up.

Four meets have been scheduled for the Westminster runners who have been training for over three weeks. After Hiram, the Ferrismen take on the Geneva harriers on October 17. Carnegie Tech will provide the competition a week later, October 24. Bethany is the last opponent on the Titan schedule and the dual meet is carded for November 7.

Two lettermen, Edwards and Wheeler, are missing from last year's undefeated squad. Back from last season are Anderson, Christy Trafton, Fox, Captain Clements Bennett, and Earon.

Coach Joe Ferris has been developing four freshmen candidates to take the places of Edwards and Wheeler, Elgin, Dissington, Heddleston, and Ganzelmar, all newcomers will see plenty of action when the season opens.

Three members of last spring's track team, Ralph Murrin, Bill Gibson, and Jake Truxal, are out for the squad.

Saints-Rex Nine To Play Tonight

Saints and Rex A. C. will continue their City-County Independent Baseball league playoff tonight at 5 o'clock on Lee avenue field.

Titans Will Battle Hiram On Saturday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 9.—Westminster college Titans will face the Terriers of Hiram college here tomorrow afternoon in the feature attraction of the annual Homecoming Day celebration.

After being sharply set back by Carnegie Tech in Taggart stadium last Saturday, the Blue and White gridders will be striving to get back in the win column at the expense of the Ohioans. Last year Westminster had no trouble taking the measure of the Terriers 20-0 on Hiram home field.

In a comparison of season's records, Hiram looms as a pre-game favorite with victories over Baldwin-Wallace and Grove City, while the Titans have two losses and only one victory over Edinboro to their credit. However, in the Grove City game, it was only a lightning thrust in the closing minutes of play that gave the Ohioans their win over the Grovers.

Head Coach Grover Washabaugh is likely to make some radical changes in the starting lineup before Saturday's game. Newton, Mastro, Myers and Scheid are possible starters in the Westminster backfield.

Sidelight of the game will be the finish of a cross-country meet between Hiram and Westminster, at half time.

With only eight lettermen back from last year's team, which was the largest to meet the Titans, Hiram Coach F. J. "Dutch" Holter was forced to rebuild his entire eleven. Five freshmen will be probable starters in the Blue and Red's opening lineup.

Franklin Routs Sharon Eleven

"Patriots" Unpack Dazzling Attack To Register 25-0 Win Thursday

Unpacking a dazzling attack, Ben Franklin's "Patriots" avenged the lone blot on their '41 record by walloping Sharon junior high, 25-0, Thursday afternoon at Taggart stadium.

The east siders crossed fertile territory in five plays. Flora took Sharon's punt and scampered to the 50. Benigas and Motsko chewed off the distance in five plays, the latter scoring from the 10.

Benigas Scores

In the same period, Benigas broke away for a 45-yard gain, being forced out of bounds on the 3. Motsko bucked over. Again in the third, Benigas eluded the entire Sharon team for a 45-yard dash and a touchdown. He found a wide gap off tackle and galloped over. Benigas tried the same play in the third and clicked for another six-pointer. Motsko bucked over the extra point.

The east siders gave every indication that they'll be in the city junior high title scrap.

Sam Flora, John Benigas and Joe Motsko ran exceptionally well and Charles Sallie directed the team masterfully. The line outcharged the visitors throughout. Arthur Hill's blocking was great.

Franklin gained 310 yards from scrimmage while Sharon was able to pierce the local wall for only 35. Sharon tied the locals last year.

However, if he can secure a release from his local Selective Service board he proposes to enter the Marines. Frankie said that owing to this it isn't likely he will be seen again in glove action here. It had been planned to have him fight Dick Shelton on a late October date.

Johnny Beazley, St. Louis Cardinal pitcher who won two games from the Yankees in the world series, is home in Nashville and in discussing opposing batters he asserted that Joe DiMaggio is the best hitter he ever faced. "He has not got a weakness" was the tribute paid to Joe. "He just stands there and does not bat an eye-lid."

Art Chapman has been appointed as coach of the Buffalo hockey team of the National Hockey league . . . Wilbur Van Lenten, end, and Cliff St. Clair, soph wing-back, Penn State gridders will be on the bench when the Nittany Lions clash with Lehigh at Bethlehem Saturday.

Homecoming day will be held at Slippery Rock State Teachers college tomorrow with the Rockets opposed to Lock Haven. Three of Coach Thompson's gridders are injured. However, he expects to toss a strong line-up into the game. Reardon, Menoher and Wagner are out, all of them with leg injuries. Wagner's leg was fractured in the game with Westminster.

Mrs. Southworth Ex-New Castlelite

New Castle can bask in a little vicarious glory in the world series triumph of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Billy Southworth, the manager, never lived in New Castle but his wife did, and more, Mr. and Mrs. Southworth have a first cousin here, Keith Brooks of Garfield avenue, a step-son of Samuel Lewis, well-known musician.

Mrs. Southworth is the daughter of Rev. Creighton Brooks who was the pastor of the First Christian church. They left New Castle for Portsmouth, O., and some years later Lyda Ruth Brooks, the daughter, married Billy Southworth who was then playing for Portsmouth.

Keith Brooks is the son of the late brother of Rev. Brooks. His widow is now Mrs. Samuel Lewis.

Chustella broke away for a 25-yard run and a touchdown for the Mercer countians in the fourth.

Daily Dozen

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Vitanition is a word Mr. Webster never heard.

It is a brand new one and coined by a Pennsylvania physician.

It comes from the words vitamin and inanition.

Inanition means bodily weakness from malnutrition.

Vitanition attributes such to a lack of vitamins.

The American diet is the most bountiful in the world.

Yet often inadequate as regards vitamins.

Refined flour is deprived of all but calories.

Polished rice has all but its caloric value removed.

Sugar is totally inert except for caloric importance.

Altering foods from their natural state is overdone.

With an unbalanced diet comes vitanition.

Ellwood High Plays At Monaca Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 9—Ellwood high footballers go to Monaca high on Saturday afternoon for their first out-of-town game, and one of the hardest of the season. They will face the team that is regarded by Coach Thurman F. Croft as the hardest fighting ball club in the district.

Having boys that really want to play football is given by Croft as the reason that Monaca annually produces an excellent team despite the coaching difficulties they have experienced in the past five years.

This year, girded with thirteen varsity players, they have a big, fast team that is going to be mighty hard for Ellwood to beat. They lost to Beaver Falls and Ambridge, two of the leading Valley teams early in the season, and have rebounded to win over New Brighton, Freedom and Beaver.

So far Ellwood has defeated Zelienople, Union Township, Farrell and Butler, and lost to Rochester.

With Tom Smiley definitely out of the game on account of having fractured two ribs in scrimmage this week, and Glogowski being on the uncertain list with a nose injury not to mention a badly battered reserve backfield list, Ellwood is going to be considerably slowed up. Smiley's place at quarterback will be taken by Luxenburg. The line is in fine shape with Wallace being given the regular place at left tackle, since Dudick has definitely quit school.

While Ellwood won over Butler high last week, Croft wasn't any too pleased with the brand of play displayed by his charges, and hopes to see a much smoother performance tomorrow.

The players will be taken to Monaca by cars for the game which will begin at 2:30 o'clock. Officials will be Mann, referee; Benedict, umpire, and Nolte, linesman.

With good weather anticipated, and exceptionally large crowd of local fans is expected to follow the Wolverines to Monaca. Since the seating arrangements at Monaca are limited and with the reduction of the speed limit, fans are reminded by local officials to start early.

James H. Newton Claimed By Death

Funeral Services For Prominent Resident To Be Held Sunday Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 9.—One of this district's best known and highly esteemed residents, James H. Newton, aged 68 years, of Wurtemburg, passed away on Thursday at noon at the Ellwood City hospital after a very short illness. Mr. Newton was taken ill on Saturday and removed to the hospital on Tuesday.

He was born and had spent his entire lifetime in Lawrence county, and for the past 42 years had operated a general store at Wurtemburg. His religious affiliation was with the Wurtemburg United Presbyterian church, of which he had been a leading supporter and active member for many years. He served the church as an elder for more than a score of years, and had served as Sunday school superintendent for a long period of years, and at the present time was the Sunday school treasurer.

Mr. Newton was a director of the People's National Bank and one of the oldest members of the Ellwood Rotary club. Quiet, unassuming and reserved, he was a sincere, honest man, and his death will be a distinct loss to his family and friends, his church, the community and the organizations which he served.

His wife, Mrs. Caroline Newton, survives him, as does one son, James S. Newton, of Wurtemburg. He is also survived by one brother, Elmer Newton, of New Wilmington; two sisters, Mrs. M. C. Hogue, Ellwood-New Castle road, and Mrs. George Trimble, of New Castle, and one granddaughter.

Funeral services will take place on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Wrtemburg U. P. church, with the pastor, Rev. J. E. Caughey, officiating. Interment will be made in the Slippery Rock mausoleum. Friends will be received at the residence.

Grovers-Geneva To Play Tonight

District Rivals Will Meet Under Falls' Light; Leitch Makes Bow

GROVE CITY, Oct. 9 — Picking up where Coach Jim Loveless left off to serve with the Navy, Acting Coach A. H. Leitch has his Grover gridders convinced that they can give Geneva's powerful squad a lively evening tonight under the lights at Beaver Falls. "We're not going down there just for the ride," he warned the squad.

Leitch served as assistant football coach last year, and is familiar with the players and the system. He has made no changes this week, being content with working on physical condition, but hinted that there'd be some changes made before the Carnegie Tech Homecoming Day game here on the 17th.

Beaten 14-7 last year at Geneva, the Grovers are definitely in the under-dog role this season for the annual clash with the oldest gridiron rivals.

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 9.—The bid for approximately 500 tons of coal was awarded to Kenneth W. Kerry, Portersville, by the Ellwood board of education last night at the October meeting.

Seventy-five per cent of the tax duplicate, or about $136,487, has been collected up to the present time. The total collection of property tax for September was $91,888, and the per capita tax was $9,694 for the same period.

The football receipts and expenditure statement was made for September and will be published in tomorrows' paper.

There are at present 74 delinquent cases in Allegheny county and the youth are sent to different schools where the work of re-habitation is becoming more and more successful. Miss Anne Sullivan was in charge of the program.

Hostesses were Mrs. Robert Dickson, Mrs. Ellwood Helling, Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. Jake Belloff, Miss Betty Ferris, Miss Catherine Cartwright and Mrs. Clifford Hall, and they served dainty refreshments.

A reception of new members will take place at the next meeting on Thursday, November 12.

Council Considers Boro Salary Rates

Some Action Likely In Near Future—Other Matters Before Council

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 9.—An increase in the wages of salaried employees of the Ellwood boro will likely be made in the future since a recommendation made last night at the regular meeting of council calling for an increase of ten dollars per month for employees of the electric department was referred to the finance committee.

In the discussion Councilman Sleighter asked that all salaried employees be considered It was pointed out that there was no provision in the budget for any increase in wages. At the same time, council tabled a petition of 18 employees of the street department for an increase in wages. The employees of this department are paid on an hourly basis. It was said that these employees were given a pay increase sometime ago, and promised at that time not to ask for another increase this year even though wages were again increased by the National Tube company.

A letter was received from the J. Wilbur Randolph Post of the American Legion protesting the condition of the flag in Ewing Park and the condition of Legion Park. The boro manager was instructed to completely investigate the charge and report back to council.

A motion that council refuse a request to waive tax and paving liens in the Straw estate and a similar request by the Federal Savings & Loan company was passed. Boyd, Biordi and Lanzi cast dissenting votes. A recommendation by the finance committee was approved requesting the boro solicitor to begin collection of valid paving liens, which have been delinquent from 15 to 18 years.

Concerning the fire and explosion last Friday night at the football game, it was pointed out by the solicitor, upon a question asking why the vendor was permitted to operate in the boro without a license, that the boro has no jurisdiction over school property. It is within police power to control such activity of a dangerous character, however, it was said. The boro could not be held liable for such an accident, it was stated.

The boro manager was again instructed to confer with Smith and Fox, realty promoters, concerning the repairing of California avenue and Argonne boulevard. It was said by the solicitor that no action can be taken against the bonding company to compel them to improve the street since the complaint was not made during the time stipulated in the contract.

The contract, it is said, called for a stone base, and council contends that a gravel base was used. It was agreed that Councilman Boyd did object to the change when the work was being done, but he objected verbally to the promoters and not to the bonding company. Residents of the section have been notified by council that the streets have never been accepted.

Residents of Wampum avenue, east of Beighley's garage, residents of Division avenue, and in other parts of the town will be notified to have their sidewalks cemented.

Much credit for the success of the drive goes to Jack Hammersmith, Kenneth McConahy, Mrs. Kelso and Ira P. West, who aided in various ways. Proceeds from the scrap will be used to buy civilian defense equipment.

Passes to movies were given to Cecil Hazen, Rose Mary Huzenic and Wayne Hazen, who collected the most pounds of scrap.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Conserving tires is very important . . . it seems that some people just can't realize the importance of saving their cars. Take a look at the territory surrounding the local high school . . . any time when school is in progress. More cars than you see around a church on a Sunday . . . We don't put all the blame on the children . . . parents should not let their offsprings drive and roar around the streets all of the time. If you would take time to watch some of these fast drivers today, your heart would come up to meet your teeth. Let's do all we can to conserve . . . keep the cars running for the duration . . . don't wear them out now, there might be a time when you will really need the old bus and if it is not in running order, you will be plum out of luck. So do all you can . . . watch for announcements from the Transportation Committee.

Today we can count eight large safes that will be turned into the scrap committee this coming week . . . that is a lot of pounds in short order. There must be something around your place that could be used to make shells or some war material. Unless we the people wake up and take hold of this situation and others that are bound to come with a war . . . we will lose the Freedoms that we all hold so dear . . . and those boys who are out there giving their all . . . can you class yourself in any way with them. Are you doing your part back home. Keeping the homes together and the mills operating and the government intact is just as important . . . in fact there can't be fighting unless the "backs" do their part.

* * *

About twenty good strong-backed merchants are needed for the Merchants Scrap Collection of Monday morning . . . Merchants on East Washington street from the Court House to the Shenango River and the side streets one block from the main drag will be included in this particular collection . . . other streets will be taken later . . . The truck situation is a problem and the Collection Committee wants to cooperate with the truckers. Will volunteers please call at the GNCA office and register . . . your cooperation will be greatly appreciated by the boys who are doing your fighting.

British Seaman Torpedoed At Sea Arrives In City

The former's ship was torpedoed in the Atlantic ocean and he and the crew were adrift on the high seas for 20 days. Seaman Davies landed at an eastern port, without any belongings and destitute, and was given aid by the British Marine agency there. He had a thrilling experience, but being a true British seaman, he is reticent to relate the trying ordeal passed through by him and his ship mates.

Mr. Davies, who has been a seaman since his boyhood days, and traveled the "seven seas", will visit at his brother's home for a week, and the Welsh friends here are making arrangements to honor him during his stay in this city.

LONDON SEES INDICATIONS OF GERMAN DEFEAT

withdrawn from street fighting at Stalingrad the Nazi radio announcement should be treated with extreme caution.

These circles, on the other hand, stated that the Nazi broadcast may have served to give the German people advance notice that the effort to conquer Stanlingrad may have to be abandoned.

The German military command, it was said, may have found Stalingrid's defenses much tougher than they expected and possibly now are preparing to settle down to defensive operations for the coming winter.

During the past 48 hours, military observers in London said, there have been indications that the German assaults at Stalingrad have weakened considerably.

Laying material: Allegheny Asphalt & Paving company, base course, at $2.10 per ton, $4,628.40. The Downard Rock Asphalt & Paving company's total bid was $5,-041.60.

HEAVIEST RAID BY U. S. BOMBERS MADE ON FRANCE

200 British Spitfires and Hurricanes to escort the American planes in the daring daylight operation.

The London Evening Star rushed out an extra edition under the headline:

Biggest Attack

"Biggest Anglo-American attack yet on northern France.

The raiding planes swept up and down the heavily fortified French coast for miles.

Spitfires and Hurricanes made the first attack, dropping light bombs and strafing installations with machine-gun fire. Immediately on their return, big formations of Fortresses roared over to follow up the initial attack with heavy bomb-loads.

Headquarters of the United States Army Air Corps had nothing to say regarding the number of "Forts" employed in the raid.

But one International News Service observer on the south coast telephoned in to London with this:

"It was the biggest bunch of 'Forts' yet to go over.

"They streamed out over the channel in waves."

So far as could be ascertained, the raid was directed mainly against the great industrial area surrounding the city of Lille.

Night Raid To Follow

If the usual pattern is followed this great daylight attack by American planes will be followed tonight by a huge Royal Air Force raid. British Stirling and Lancaster planes, capable of carrying four-ton bombs, are best suited to night operations while the American Fortresses, because of their speed and altitude, handle daylight operations.

As usual, the large extent of the raid led to a welter of guess-work and speculation with regard to the number of planes used.

The London Evening News said that one force of bombers alone was estimated at more than 100, with medium and heavy ships apparently of British make accompanying the Fortresses. The latter flew at a tremendous altitude, leaving vapor trails in the crisp autumn sky and causing something of a scare in some coastal towns where many persons thought the planes were enemy ships of a new high-flying design.

In general, observers said the sky scene was reminiscent of August 19, the date of the great commando raid on Dieppe when more than 1,000 British and American planes roared out to form a protecting canopy for the attacking troops.

Parley Scheduled On Liquor Store Wage Controversy

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—The State Liquor Control Board was scheduled to meet today with a committee representing more than 800 store clerks who were suspended for staging a walkout Saturday in order to receive its reply to an offer permitting the workers to work without reprisal if demands for a 20 per cent. wage boost are dropped.

Chairman Frederick T. Gelder said a meeting would be held "sometime" today with the committee headed by I. Karl Krischeff, Philadelphia store manager and a member of the state, county and municipal workers of America (C.I.O.)

News Briefs From City Hall

Several East Side youngsters are in for a rude awakening and their parents should act now and not wait until they face Mayor Charles B. Mayne or cause someone injury or loss of life. It is reported that they have made a dummy and have been placing it on East Side streets. One woman auto driver almost wrecked her car in an effort to escape hitting the dummy which appeared to be a man in the cartway. Any youngster who imagines this is funny has an odd sense of humor and no one would blame His Honor for imposing a stiff fine.

Dr. William L. Steen who suffered a slight stroke recently in Geneva-On-The-Lake is able to be about and greeted many of his friends here yesterday.

City police last night took Robert Dailey to police headquarters after the Northview avenue autoist's car damaged that of J. A. Malloy of Sheridan avenue in the latter avenue. Today it was reported an amicable agreement would be made between the autoists, hence the continuance of the case.

They didn't know where they were going but they were on their way—until they reached Akron and then two Ellwood City youngsters were apprehended and are being detained pending arrival of their parents. They are Robert Gregosky, 13 and James Roe, same age.

Auto of Cosmos Theodosis, Hanna street, reportedly stolen Wednesday night from Long avenue was found by city police yesterday in Pennsylvania avenue.

Let it be said to the credit of mankind that the people who seem most hateful are the ones we don't know well.

The "professional mind" is one that rejects any idea not expressed in the jargon of the profession.

Firemen Rescue 2 Boys From Cliff

Daring Feat Of Two Pittsburgh Men Saves Schoolboys From 200-Foot Fall

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9.—For the thrilling rescue of two Mt. Washington school boys from a ledge on the 250-foot rock-faced cliff between Mt. Washington and Carson street, two city firemen were receiving the plaudits of their friends and the press today.

The firemen, Cornelius Helpin and Alvin McCann, risked their lives to save the boys, Mark Pike, eight, and Ross Kennedy, five, who had been "exploring" on the hillside when they slipped to a ledge 200 feet above Carson street. They were lowered to safety by ropes.

For Helpin, the rescue almost proved fatal. He slid about 50 feet down the steep surface of the cliff when the Pike boy squirmed in his grasp. He managed to get a toe-hold however just at a time when speechless onlookers felt sure he would plunge the last 100 feet to the ground below.
